28-Day Racing

The Orange County Fair association has applied to the state racing board at Los Angeles for permission to operate a $200,000 horse racing plant.

This news today was confirmed by Harry Lake of Garden Grove, president of the organization. The location would be at Hansen.

Stumbling Block Seen

For some time the project has been under consideration with the idea of operating the race track as a feature of a revived county fair. However, failure of Governor Merriam to sign a bill appropriating $87,000 for fair buildings may prove a stumbling block to carrying out the venture, Mr. Lake said.

Hansen is 10 miles northwest of Santa Ana. The track would be close enough to the metropolitan area to draw large crowds, Mr. Lake explained. He also pointed out that it would be eight miles from the Long Beach area, seven miles from Fullerton and six miles from Anaheim.

One Mile Track

The track for which application has been made would be one mile in length. The association has applied for 28 days of racing next March. The same period has been allotted to the Tanforan track near San Francisco, but Mr. Lake said it is hoped that a suitable adjustment could be worked out.

Other members of the fair association board are W. J. Carmichael, Fullerton; Mrs. J. V. Kelsey, Garden Grove; John Osterman, Frank Purinton, James Van Wyk and Charles Van Wyk, Santa Ana; S. W. Stanley, Tustin, and S. James Tuffree, Placentia.

Drilling Bill!

HUNTINGTON BEACH. Tuesday, July 23. — Governor Frank F. Merriam cannot dedicate the new $75,000 post office because it would be a violation of a city ordinance which has been on the city statute books since 1915. It was revealed at last night's council meeting. When Judge C. P. Patton recommended that the state executive be invited here for dedication ceremonies, Mayor Thomas B. Talbert ruled him out of order.

Whereupon City Clerk Charles R. Furr looked up the following ordinance which applies to the case: "It shall be unlawful for any ox, calf, ass, bull, cow, horse, colt, jack, mule, donkey, burro, jackass, sheep, goat, or hog to run at large, be staked, pastured, herded, or tied in any public street, lane, alley way or other public place."

P. S.—Governor Merriam vetoed the whipstocking bill which, had it been made law, would have netted the city of Huntington Beach 3 per cent of the value of all oil drilled from the state-owned tidelands on the city's shoreline.

Control in Second Day
Of General Strike

TERRA HAUTE, Ind., Tuesday, July 23. (AP)—Only a bare sprinkling of business houses opened today as from 1500 to 2000 Indiana National guardsmen tightened down military control of this city of 66,000, which is in the second day of a general strike.

A guardsman, Eugene Harvey of Martinsville, received a breast injury as he fired a shot at the head with a piece of cement as approximately 1000 strike-sympathizers resisted national guardsmen who set up a mile-square military zone around the plant of the Columbus Enamel and Stamping company, whose opposition to a closed shop started the controversy.

Windows Broken

National guardsmen used tear gas for a second time shortly before noon to disperse a crowd assembled at this morning when whose labor troubles fomented the strike. Guard officers reported that a crowd of several hundred men surged up to the patrols surrounding the plant and ignored orders to disperse.

Windows were broken and tear gas bombs thrown before the crowd was dispersed. Five of the alleged sympathizers were arrested.

Walter J. Smith, who said he was work manager of the enameling plant and that he spoke for C. B. Corby, president, asserted today there would be no compromise with the strikers, that the plant would open "in three days or a week, or 10 days at the outside."

Conferences Start

Charles L. Richardson of Washington and Harry E. Sheck of Chicago, conciliators for the U. S. Department of labor, today began conferring with the strikers and company officials.

Although only a few stores, including eating establishments, opened, Brig.-Gen. D. Wray De Prez, in charge of national guard forces, said "stores can open if they wish and will be adequately protected."

By ROCH BRADSHAW
Frank criticism of the government's system of handling its various work relief agencies developed this morning at a meeting of the Orange County relief committee. Members of the committee pointed to duplication of operations in the various government agencies, and asked "Why?" They also unbundled themselves of the recently growing impression that persons on relief have become "relief minded" and would rather accept SERA budgets than to work on private jobs for wages.

In this connection, it was reported that three carpenters working on the city hall, a Public Works Administration project, sat around most of yesterday afternoon and ended their day by being discharged. No explanation of their conduct was forthcoming except that apparently they had gained the impression that it was not necessary to work.

Turns Down Job

It was revealed that another man working on a State Emergency Relief Administration job at Fullerton for $30 a month has turned down a job on the new Santa Ana high school at $12 an hour. This man, it was explained, would rather have the security of an SERA budget than an opportunity to earn wages. He doesn't want to take the chance of losing the private job and facing the fear of not being able to get back on relief rolls.

NEEDY REFUSE
MIDWEST JOBS

CHICAGO, Tuesday, July 23. (AP)

Partial discontinuance of work relief was effective in seven midwestern states today as the government sought to bring farm jobs and workers together.

Most recent state to join the movement to force unemployed to help in the harvest fields was South Dakota, where 19,000 family heads were stricken from relief rolls as farmers complained they could not hire men. A "marked increase" in demand for farm help was reported by the federal department of agriculture.

The vote was 64 to 15.

Introduced to broaden the powers of the farm administration and protect it against mounting attacks, the legislation was changed in many respects before it reached passage.

Its original provision barring processors of farm products from suing to recover any of the $900,000,000 of AAA taxes already paid was replaced with a compromise. This provided that processors who had not passed the taxes on to consumers or producers could file recovery suits, but those who had could not. PARIS, Tuesday, July 23. (AP)—Authoritative quarters disclosed today that France seeks a treaty giving Italy economic domination over Ethiopia in exchange for Italy's guarantee of Ethiopia's nominal independence.

This treaty, sought, it was said, as the only likely preventive of war.

The same sources said that France intends to use the forthcoming session of the League of Nations council at Geneva for the negotiation of the treaty.

In it, Italy would be given special privileges including immigration rights and in return, would have to guarantee the sovereignty of Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie.

While this suggestion would be akin to a protectorate, the French sources concerned said they hoped it would circumvent Emperor Haile Selassie's objection to an outright protectorate.

The intention of France to block any effort of Great Britain or other powers to precipitate league action in the conflict was indicated in high quarters which said they feared such action would cause Italy to wreck the league by resigning from it.

Youngsters Marooned On Rock At Laguna Are Saved By Guards

Heavy ground swells which lashed the Orange county coast at high tide yesterday afternoon took one life at Newport Beach and endangered lives of nine small children, who were marooned on a rock at Laguna Beach until rescued by lifeguards.

Jack Olive, 20, Pasadena, was drowned near the harbor entrance at Newport when his all-metal kayak was overturned by gigantic swells and he failed to come to the surface.

The Pasadena youth had been riding the huge breakers in his frail boat and was traveling against the waves when his kayak nosed under and overturned. Three companions, Herbert Schroeder and Bob Hartlein of Altadena and Ralph Hoffer of Alameda, attempted to dive for the drowned youth and then summoned Marco Anich, lifeguard, and Myron Lehman, who searched for more than two hours without discovering the body.

Names of nine children caught by the swells at Laguna were not obtained by Lifeguards Ed Hobart and Spud Cochran, who swam to their rescue. Before the two men could reach the children, three of them had been swept into the sea. They were first taken to shore and then the guards returned for the others, whose screams and cries had attracted several hundred spectators.

The children who had lost their footing on the rock were cut by barnacles and jagged rocks before their rescue, it was reported.

LONDON, Tuesday, July 23. (AP). Coincident with the concentration of Italian troops in East Africa, Great Britain is massing what naval experts rate as the strongest, fastest fleet ever assembled in the Mediterranean.

These official announcements disclosed today that the capital ship strength in the Mediterranean is being increased at least 80,000 tons, and that the fastest ships now are to be centered at Malta, a base which commands the Italian routes to the Red Sea.

Officials asserted the move had no connection with Italian military activities.

About Folks:

Perhaps the most interesting of the many unusual features to be found in The Journal, is the department known as About Folks. It is found daily on page 3. To those of you who remember, the old country weekly back home, the About Folks column will bring many pleasant memories. For, in truth, it is nothing more than the old-fashioned "local and personal" news with which many of us started our newspaper-reading habits. Daily it chronicles the goings and comings, the joys and sorrows, the back-fence gossip, the news of our neighbors which we talk about when we get together. Incidentally, The Journal invites contributions to this department. When you have visitors or when you go visiting yourself—anything that pertains to Santa Ana or Orange county people—telephone The Journal at 3600 and tell us about it. You'll make us happy when you do.

ITALIAN GOVERNMENT BONDS SLIP AFTER ROME'S GOLD EDICT

IL DUCE USES STEP TO AID HIS ARMY

Lira May Be Effected By Decree Lowering Currency Coverage

ROME, Italy, Tuesday, July 23. (AP)—Italian government bonds fell sharply and common stocks rose buoyantly today as the stock exchange reacted to a royal decree permitting the government to lower the legal limit of gold coverage for currency in sight obligations fixed at 40 per cent in 1927.

Consolidated bonds, which form the majority of the public debt, fell off one point to 66—which is to be compared to the quotation of 86 when the Italo-Ethiopian dispute began.

Treasury bonds dropped an average of one point each. Industrial and other stocks enjoyed rises ranging around 4 to 6 points. Metal and war equipment stocks were in particular demand. Fiat Motors rose 6 points.

May Affect Lira
Banking circles agreed that Italy still was formally on the gold standard. Some said the new decree might even have a salutary effect on the lira, since it would release several billion lira in gold, if necessary for purchases abroad. The use of gold direct, it was said, would absorb the lira abroad and thus prevent speculation.

The royal decree, published in the official gazette last night, suspended a clause on the stabilization law of 1927 fixing the gold coverage of notes and deposits of the Bank of Italy, and authorized the coverage to drop below the legal 40 per cent.

Informed circles said the action was Premier Mussolini's solution to the problem of purchasing large supplies of raw materials abroad to furnish the equipment for his army in east Africa.

Prices Rising
Rising prices and growing necessity for expansion of credit had foreshadowed the reduction in the coverage limit. Italy now has more than 5,000,000,000 lira in gold.

The press, repeating its criticism of Japan for reported opposition to the Italo-Ethiopian controversy—an attack which led to posting of guards about the Japanese embassy—also displayed prominently an interview of Il Duce with a representative of the newspaper L'Echo de Paris.

Mussolini was quoted in the interview as asking whether the League of Nations should become "a tribunal before which Negroes, backward savage races of the world, shall bring great nations which have revolutionized and transformed humanity."

Music, arranged by Elwood Bear, will include two string ensemble numbers by a trio, composed of Beatrice Granas, Audrey Granas, and Anna May Archer. Audrey Granas will play a violin solo.

"A cordial invitation is extended to the general public as well as to Barbara's immediate friends, to attend the dinner," Mr. Crawford said. "We want this dinner to be a reflective expression of the felicitations and gratitude which we have for the rodeo queen."

Reservations are to be made before 2 p. m. tomorrow with the high school secretary, telephone 306. Assisting the chairman are Mr. Henderson and Howard I. Wood, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

Honor was paid Miss Rowland at the city council meeting last night. Sitting at the left of her father, the mayor, Barbara gave an account of the rodeo and her experiences as queen. The following resolution was voted by the civic group:

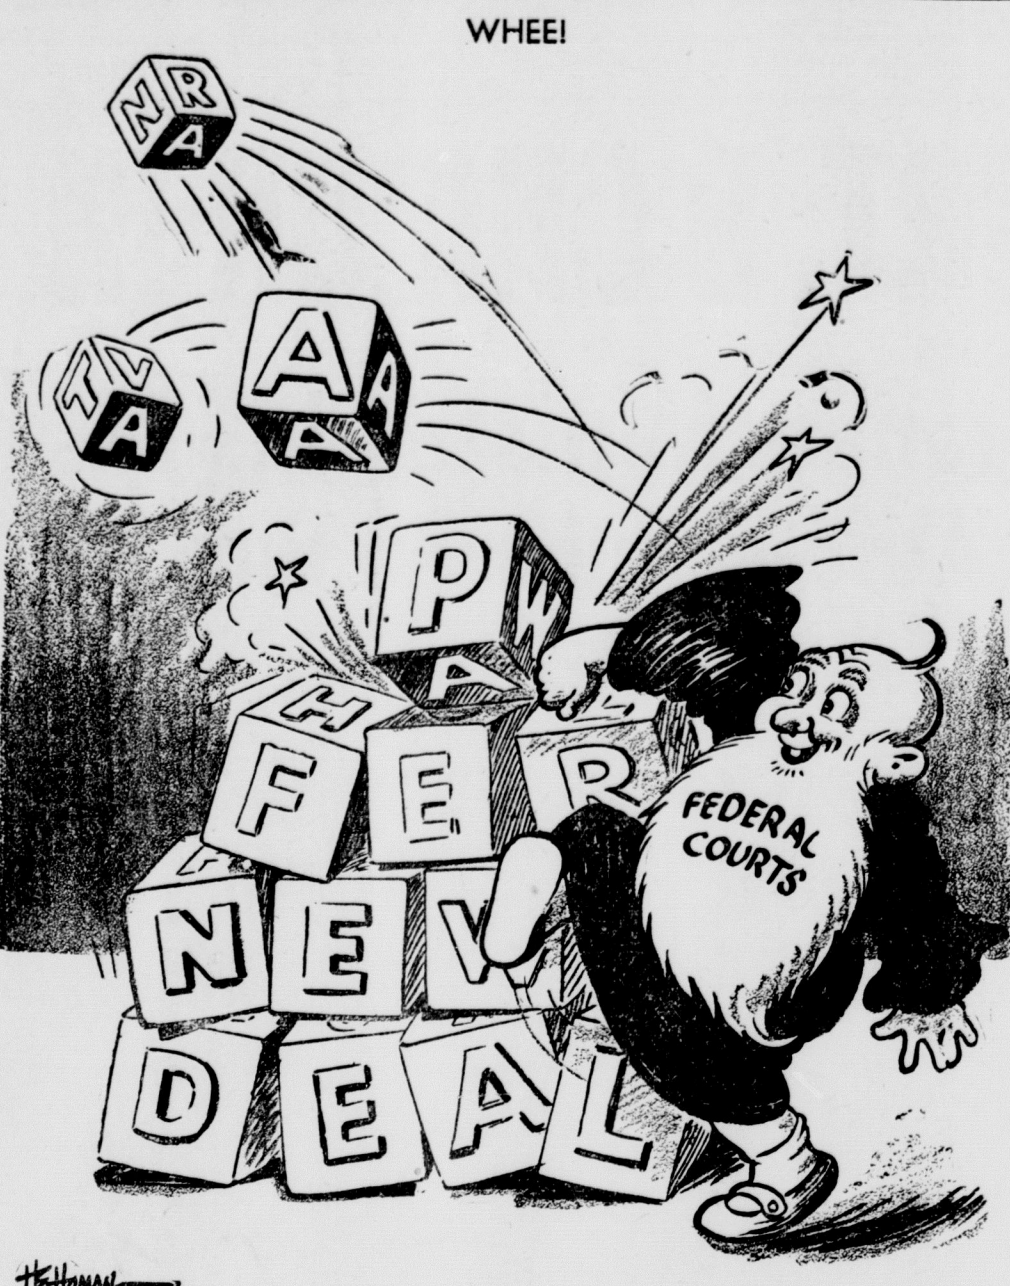

"Be it resolved that the felicitations of the city council be extended to Miss Barbara Rowland for the prestige brought to the city of Santa Ana by reason of her achievement of the honor conferred by the Rodeo Association of Salinas."

On motion of Councilman Joseph P. Smith, the mayor was authorized to write a letter of introduction under the seal of the city clerk to the mayor of Honolulu to assure special courtesies to Barbara when she and Mrs. Rowland take the trip to Hawaii, awarded them as Barbara's prize for winning the contest.

Barbara Rowland Relates Thrills of Rodeo Contest

A telephone's intermittent ringing, letters piled on her bed, and reporters on both sides of her reminded Barbara Rowland as she awakened this morning that she was still "Queen of the Salinas Rodeo," even though she had returned home.

Mayor Fred Rowland, Mrs. Rowland, Miss Ruth Rowland, and Barbara arrived in Santa Ana about 7 o'clock last night. A police escort took Barbara and her father to the city council meeting where Barbara sat to the left of her father as an honored guest, and received a resolution of felicitation from the council.

Tanned from her daily participation in rodeo parades and events, the "Sweetheart of Salinas" plumped pillows behind her and began to answer the barrage of questioning which has faced her since she won the state title of "Outdoor Girl" last week.

"I had a wonderful time and everybody was grand, but oh, it's good to be home and in my own bed," Barbara said. "Sympathizes With Stars"
"I think I must know how the movie stars feel now," Barbara said. "Everywhere I went in Salinas, people would stop me and ask me to pose for pictures. I could see them nudge each other as they said, 'There goes the Sweetheart.' Previous to this year, the title of the rodeo queen had been sweetheart and the name persisted. I was getting a little tired of it."

Barbara said she didn't have time to think about being nervous before the competition.

"The 42 of us were kept on a constant rush, being entertained at luncheons and dinners and breakfasts. All of the girls were grand and we had such fun together. I think the hardest part of the whole thing was when the girls came up to congratulate me on winning the contest," Barbara confessed.

The girls were given their horsemanship tests Wednesday afternoon. The gallop, short stop, and gallop back for which Barbara had especially trained previous to the rodeo was one of the requirements. The girls were also judged on general outdoor appearance.

Drew Best Horse
"I was lucky enough to draw probably the best horse of the lot," Barbara said. "It was a small back and alert. That helped me to win of course."

Thursday morning, the girls were called to the stage of the Fox West Coast theater at Salinas for an impromptu speech on their extra-curricular activities. Barbara told the judges that she wanted to be an athletic instructor.

"We thought Governor Merriam would never announce the winner Thursday morning in the arena. He had the name sealed in an envelope. We were all standing in front of him, fidgeting. Finally I heard him say that the winner was a young lady from Santa Ana. I don't remember much else, I was so excited," Barbara declared.

Three dozen pink roses from the 20-30 club, corsages and 13 congratulatory telegrams awaited Barbara when she returned to her room that night. Barbara daily led the parade after the announcement Thursday, attired in her riding togs. Saturday night, she donned a blue chiffon formal for her ride on a float, decorated in red and white.

A brief rest has been planned by Barbara and her mother before they leave for San Francisco August 9 for a three-weeks trip to Hawaii, the award for winning the Outdoor Girl contest.

BOARD DENIES TAX REFUND

Granting the request of the Tax Research bureau to substitute a request for a $116.29 refund on taxes paid on the Rimpau property in Anaheim for a previous request to cancel the taxes, the board of supervisors today denied the request for refund.

The request for cancellation of the tax and the later request for a refund were made on the grounds that a portion of the property in question is being used by a public utility. The refund request stated that 27 per cent of the property and 18 per cent of the building in Anaheim is occupied by the Pickwick Stage line.

Under a recent decision of the California supreme court held that cities and counties may not tax that portion of private property leased to public utility corporations.

Refusal of the supervisors to refund taxes on the property was based on the fact that validity of the ruling will be tested in a case now pending in superior court.

SEEK SINGLE CONTROL OF HARBOR

Centralization of harbor control on one body will be sought by the county board of supervisors in a series of conferences to be held between representatives of the county governing body and the city council of Newport Beach.

In reply to a request for a ruling on the matter of whether the city or county has control of the harbor under the new development program, the Los Angeles law firm of O'Melveny, Tuller and Myers has notified the supervisors that the city of Newport Beach is charged with the responsibility of policing and regulating wharves in that portion of the harbor lying inside the city limits. The same power is extended to the county over the remaining portion of the harbor.

Power to End
The harbor district, according to the ruling, is just an improvement district formed for the purpose of carrying on the $2,000,000 improvement project now under way. When the development program is completed the power of the district ends, it is said.

The ruling pointed the way to centralizing harbor control in one group by declaring that under existing laws the state legislature can designate the supervisors, city council or any other responsible body as the governing group with power to carry out the purpose of the harbor act.

Conferences Planned
Under the plan discussed by the supervisors today conferences will be held with members of the Newport Beach city council for the purpose of deciding what group will have control. When a decision is reached the recommendation will be embodied in a bill to be presented to the state legislature at the first opportunity.

DR. HARRY ZAISER ELECTED TO SURGEONS' COLLEGE

Word was received here today that Dr. Harry E. Zaiser, superintendent of the Orange county hospital, has been elected to the American College of Surgeons. Election of Dr. Zaiser to this organization makes a total of six Orange county doctors so honored.

Election to the American College of Surgeons is the greatest honor that can be bestowed upon a surgeon, it is said. Dr. Zaiser will be initiated into the organization in October.

The soft spoken king of kings and conquering Lion of Judah had a full day, beginning with his reception to the diplomatic corps at 10 a. m., then a reception to notable foreigners at 11 a. m. and to Ethiopian chiefs and dignitaries at noon.

A great imperial banquet for Ethiopian chieftains was arranged for 8 p. m. to be followed by a banquet for the diplomatic corps. Tribesmen and chieftains, some bringing gifts of snarling lions, came to visit the monarch and to offer him fresh assurances of their loyalty and devotion in the crisis.

For the banquet to his followers, the emperor ordered raw meat—the warriors' favorite dish. For the diplomats, he offered glasses of "Tej," a native wine made from honey.

JAPANESE PRESS HITS ITALIAN CRITICISMS
TOKYO, Tuesday, July 23. (AP)—The Japanese press, aroused by Italian press attacks on Japan, gave vent to bitter feeling today, expressing a belief that the Italian criticisms were officially inspired and that the bringing up of the racial question in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute was proving provocative to Japan.

A foreign office spokesman said that thus far no particular protest had been planned, but that Japanese diplomats everywhere have been warned not to be misled by inflammatory press reports.

a questioning, sometimes skeptical attitude toward the work relief setup, and its relation to the SERA. He pointed out that the SERA will continue to maintain a placement service but that the National Reemployment service, another government agency, maintains the same service. He wanted to know why this duplication.

No Details Yet
Terrence Halloran, SERA director, said there is as yet almost no authentic information about the new program. He said, however, that the NRS placement service does not and cannot take over this function.

It also was brought out that both the SERA and the Works Progress administration will maintain social service departments. Dr. Warner wanted to know why this situation must exist. He said that as far as he could see, one agency could handle the social work for both. In this connection it was explained that eventually the SERA will become simply a relief agency while the WPA will carry on works projects. The SERA must certify relief cases to the WPA for jobs. But so far, government instructions have not explained why there must be two social service departments.

Questions Policy
Dr. Warner also questioned the government policy whereby persons not needing relief may be employed on the SERA administrative staff.

"If I had anything to do with the SERA and WPA policies, persons in the administrative staffs would be only those who need relief," he said. "Persons in need of relief could do the work but we've employed plenty of people who don't need relief."

The committee later adjourned, realizing that there is nothing it can do as a committee to change the situation or make the policies.

MORE TROUBLE SEEN AT DAM

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Tuesday, July 23. (AP)—Faced with growing labor dissension, peacemakers continued efforts today to settle a strike of workmen on the huge Boulder dam project. Eight hundred union workmen demanding increased wages were on strike today, with 830 employees still on job.

The Rev. C. H. Sloan, chairman of an arbitration committee named to iron out the difficulties, was to call the group together during the day.

CAMPAIGN UNDER WAY TO CHANGE CAPISTRANO STREET NAMES

CLUB STARTS ACTION ON PROJECT

Will Attempt to Revive Atmosphere Of Early Days in Pueblo

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO.—Plans for a campaign to re-name streets in San Juan Capistrano as a part of their program to bring back atmosphere of early California days have been announced here by officials of the recently formed Spanish California club.

Alfonso Yorba, secretary, pointed out today that such names as "Commercial street" and "Broadway" are hardly in keeping with the Spanish and mission background of the community. Plans of club members include a plea to the county supervisors asking that they change the street names not in accord with the early traditions of the town.

Says Changes Needed
Mr. Yorba said yesterday that practically every avenue in the town has some past history and that names could easily be found for them. Many old families have lived in the community and their names could be placed on certain of the streets, he said.

In explaining the need of changing street names here, Mr. Yorba explained that the entire space on the east side of the state highway from the San Juan Capistrano mission to the old Forster residence was at one time a plaza, with the Camino Real passing to the east of the present business district instead of over the route of the state highway, which passes through what was once the mission vineyard.

Years ago McKinley avenue, leading toward the west from the business district, was called "Calle del Obispo," (street of the Bishop), Mr. Yorba said. He explained that at one time a bishop was expected to arrive from the south and that El Camino Real was suitably decorated to receive the visiting dignitary. At the last minute it was found that he was forced to detour and arrive by the present McKinley avenue, so the decorations were hastily changed and the bishop was received in fitting style after a great rush by Indians of the community. For a great many years afterward, according to stories told in the town, the street was named after the bishop, he said.

Huntington Beach.—Assurance that nearly 40 members of the Pacific Coast Paddleboard and Surf Board association of Venice would enter the Aquatic day sport carnival in Huntington Beach all day next Sunday, was received here today by W. H. Gallienne, secretary of the chamber of commerce. More than 50 kayak enthusiasts from the Fullerton club have entered the contests, according to R. A. Marsden, commander.

Tentative program for the day's events: 10 a. m., shooter riding contest; 11 a. m., surf board riding; 1:30 p. m., kayak race around pier for older boys; 2 p. m., paddleboard race around pier section one; 2:30 p. m., kayak race (small boys), paddleboards section two; 3:30 p. m., swim around the pier; fancy diving from pier and lifeboat drill by junior life guards. Prizes will be awarded in each event.

No petitions have been circulated asking the change, but members expect to start upon their campaign within a short time, according to Mr. Yorba.

Police Return Stolen Car In Record Time

LAGUNA BEACH.—One of the quickest recoveries of a stolen car in police records here occurred last night when Miss Alice Padgett reported her coupe missing from in front of her home at 2696 Coast Boulevard South at 7 p. m. She had the car in her possession again at 9 o'clock.

A call to the Laguna Beach police department and a relayed call to the San Clemente department brought the car back almost immediately. Police at San Clemente picked up the car, which they said was driven by Morgan Randall Lee, taxi driver of 151 Loretta Walk, Long Beach. Lee is being held here on grand theft charges.

PLAN TO BEAUTIFY H. B. Civic Group to Start Soon

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Personnel of a special planning commission of the chamber of commerce to outline and recommend a residential zoning system for Huntington Beach will be announced soon, it was decided at last night's meeting of directors of the local civic body. The new commission will recommend measures to the city council for beautification of the city through grouping of homes, planting of trees, shrubs, flowers, lawns and laying out parks and landscape projects.

The action resulted from a talk given by W. O. Harris of the Federal Housing Commission headquarters in Los Angeles. Mr. Harris accompanied his remarks with a one-reel movie of modernization in the home.

A complete new set of by-laws was accepted. After Jan. 1, 1936, the number of directors will be reduced from 30 to 15. Eight of these will be elected for two-year terms and seven for one year.

TEXAS VISITOR IS HONORED

GARDEN GROVE.—Honoring Miss Dorothy Carr, who is leaving for her home in San Antonio, Tex., this week, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lake entertained a group of friends for a steak bake and evening of cards recently. Miss Carr has been a guest of the Lakes for the past ten days.

Prizes in cards were awarded Mrs. Wayne Reafsynder and Ray Johnson. Miss Carr was given a guest picnic by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Reafsynder, Miss Helen Knox, Lester Frink and Kenneth Dugan.

Miss Doris Cross, a government agent in the public health department at Washington, D. C., spent the past week with Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Kraushaar. Miss Cross, a former classmate of her hostess at Knapp college in Santa Barbara, has been spending her vacation at her former home in San Diego.

Carl Nichols, associated with the Federal Land bank at Berkeley and a former resident here, is spending a part of this week in Orange county on business matters.

The Anaheim City park was the scene of a family picnic dinner recently in honor of Mrs. Mabel Ullom, Mrs. Lloyd Ullom and her daughter, Miss Frances, all of Las Vegas, who were houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Broadly. Others present for the picnic were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Broadly of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Broadly and children, Bobbie and Carolyn.

GROUP RETURNS FROM IDYLLWILD

MIDWAY CITY.—The Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Wooten have returned from Idyllwild where they attended the summer institute for young people. Rev. and Mrs. Wooten were accompanied by a group of six young people, including Thelma Conditt of Westminster, Joanna Riley of Oceanview, Naomi Austin, Alfred Dugdale, Katherine Young, and Loraine Young, all of Huntington Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robertson and daughters, Mildred and Ruth, left recently to spend a week or so at Sequoia National park.

Among the Standard Oil company employees who went to San Diego Saturday on the Standard special were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Keller, Mr. and Mrs. E. Davies and their son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Robertson and two daughters and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Houlihan.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Beauchamp of Wahash, Ind., were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moore.

Charles Schmidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Schmidt, who was badly injured in an automobile accident last week and has been in St. Joseph's hospital, was brought to his home by ambulance Sunday. He will be in bed for several weeks.

ORANGE LEGION WOMEN MEET BUENA PARK

ORANGE.—The Mother's club of the American Legion auxiliary met at the Legion hall yesterday to work on comforters and other sewing to be used in welfare work. At noon a potluck dinner was served and at 2 p. m. they joined with other auxiliary members for the semi-monthly meeting of the organization.

Reports were given by Mrs. Dolores Goodwin on the county council meeting and the district meeting at Huntington Beach. It was announced that the joint county installation will be held in Orange August 30. Mrs. Charlotte Adams announced that she has secured Jack Iahn's orchestra of Anaheim for the event. The purchase of a new stove was announced by the committee selected for that purpose.

Financial aid was promised the department of child welfare, rehabilitation and aid promised to the local welfare store. An amendment was made to the by-laws changing the meeting days from Thursday to the second and fourth Mondays. The first meeting of the month will be in the afternoon and the last in the evening.

SERVICES HELD FOR RESIDENT OF GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE.—Funeral services for Mrs. Catherine Schilling, 76, were held yesterday afternoon at the Wee Kirk of the Heather in Glendale. Mrs. Schilling, a resident of Garden Grove for the past five years, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. C. Powers on East Acacia street, died early Saturday morning, following an illness of only a few days.

Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Estelle Davis and Mrs. Laura Farmer of Los Angeles and Mrs. Viola Powers of Garden Grove; six grandchildren also survive.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon M. Bruderie have returned from a two-weeks' northern trip and visit with relatives in Seattle. While there a short trip was made to Victoria.

Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Arkley and Miss Dorothy Swenson returned recently from several days at the home of the former's son, Kenneth Arkley, at Ramona.

Misses Lois Reafsynder, Elva Ralston, Eleanor and Mildred Anderson are spending this week at the Queen Esther camp at Idyllwild.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Ames and Miss Onetia Ames had as guests recently Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Carlson of Plaza, N. D., who were en route home after attending the San Diego exposition.

Miss Ellen Oertly, a student nurse at the Seaside hospital in Long Beach, started her vacation yesterday, a part of which will be spent with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Oertly. In addition she plans to spend a part of the time in the mountains.

WINTERSBURG YOUNG PEOPLE TO ATTEND INSTITUTE

OCEANVIEW.—A group of young people from the Epworth league of the Wintersburg M. E. church, accompanied by the Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Thompson, will leave this week for the Epworth league institute at Arroyo Grande.

Alice Slater, Wanda Troop, Florence Ray Moore and Andrea Gardner, members of the Queen Esther society, left Saturday for Idyllwild, to remain a week.

Mrs. Roy McCormick and children and Mrs. Jack Tinsley of Huntington Beach have returned from a month's visit with relatives in Arkansas and Nebraska.

PATTERN 5379
If you want to click those jiffy needles most effectively, try this jiffy-knit cape. It gets done quickly and you can create a stir with it if you're at the beach or lake. And if it's neither, you'll still find many uses for this soft warm cape—it's ideal on a motor trip, for cool nights when camping or even right up on the front porch. The cape is done in two colors but the stitch in the hand is so cleverly done that you have the effect of two shades of a color.
In pattern 5379 you will find complete instructions for making the cape shown; an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements; color suggestions.
To obtain this pattern send 10 cents in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Santa Ana Journal Household Arts Department, 117 East Fifth street, Santa Ana, Calif.

BEACH INVITES GUARD UNIT

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Local camp grounds may become an artillery base for one night if present plans of the chamber of commerce are carried out. Secretary W. H. Gallienne sent a telegram yesterday asking the commanding officer of the 145th Field Artillery of the Utah National Guard to make camp tomorrow night at the Sea Breeze Auto camp at the expense of the city.

The artillery unit, with 800 men and 50 trucks is now encamped at San Luis Obispo on its annual summer tour. The San Diego exposition is its destination.

MISSIONARY GROUP HAS MEETING

TALBERT.—The Woman's missionary society of Talbert and Greenville held their July meeting at the home of Mrs. Anna Helm recently. The Rev. Edward Moody conducted the Bible study and devotional service, which followed the business session, presided over by Mrs. M. V. Knott.

Mrs. Helm, superintendent of the junior missionary society, will entertain the girls at her home next Wednesday, she announced. Present were Rev. and Mrs. Moody, Mrs. Nay Clayton, Mrs. M. V. Knott, Mrs. Anna Kuffel, Miss Leora Blakey, Mrs. Pearl Jansma and daughters, and the hostess, Mrs. Nay Clayton of Paulerino, will entertain the group at the August meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Giesler, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Giesler and Mrs. Frank Allair are at Yellowstone Park. They will be gone several weeks.

K. OF P. LODGE TO MEET TONIGHT IN TUSTIN HALL

TUSTIN.—Members of Knights of Pythias lodges from Santa Ana, Anaheim, Downey and Belvedere Gardens will visit Tustin tonight for a district convention, it has been announced by Jerome Kild, publicity chairman. The meeting will be held in the local K. of P. hall.

H. B. BUDGET LOWER FOR NEW YEAR

Street Bond Retirement To Save $30,000 For City Taxpayers

HUNTINGTON BEACH.—Reduction of $42,000 in expenses of the city for the coming fiscal year was approved by the city council last night. The budget calls for a total expenditure of $197,000 as against $239,000 for the year just ended. Retirement of the annual assessment bonds for 1915 street improvements last year saved $30,000 on the new budget, and paring down here and there in the other departments accounted for the $12,000. Assessed property valuation was reduced 10 per cent.

A new wage scale and working ratio for all city employees was adopted. A five and one-half day week, eight hours a day will start next month with employees receiving less than $125 per month having their wages increased $10, and those over $125 will be increased $5.

Estimated revenue which the city will derive during the coming fiscal year was set at $255,356. Last year a total of $252,827 was taken in.

This surplus, amounting to nearly $60,000, will be utilized to construct a new $78,000 sewage system and a $25,000 dancing casino with the aid of 45 per cent grants from the PWA.

Councilmen accepted one of three plans for the proposed sewerage plant presented by F. S. Curry, San Bernardino engineer. Bareinbock and Armstrong, San Bernardino architects, were instructed to prepare plans outlining the cost of building a new dancing casino and arena on the beach front to be presented at the next council meeting. The casino would be constructed of reinforced concrete in futuristic design.

City Attorney Ray H. Overacker was instructed to draw a new fire zoning ordinance moving zone two west 50 feet to permit erection of new homes within the protected fire area.

BUENA PARK RESIDENTS ATTEND L. A. FUNERAL

BUENA PARK.—Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Warlamont and daughter, Marie, and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Shovel attended the funeral of D. S. Rummel of Los Angeles at Forest Lawn Memorial park in Glendale, yesterday afternoon.

A son was born to Dr. and Mrs. H. Milton Counter of Buena Park Sunday morning at the Methodist hospital in Los Angeles.

COUNTY MAN HURT IN L. A. ACCIDENT

ORANGE P. O. CONTEST IN OPEN AGAIN

The contest for the postmaster-ship at Orange came out into the open again today when numerous residents of Orange and Santa Ana received blank questionnaires concerning six applicants for the position.

The six are Clay M. Holt, Mrs. Vera Wetlin, Mrs. Audrey Peterson, Clyde P. Elliott, Russell H. Stratton and Walter Atkinson.

As a result of this inquiry by the civil service commission, a new list of eligibles for the office will be made up, three names only to be on the list.

Mrs. Vera Wetlin was made acting postmaster at Orange 15 months ago. Civil service examinations were held, and three names were certified. These were V. D. Johnson, Joseph Peterson and F. C. Thompson. Mrs. Wetlin was not certified. Mr. Thompson was given the recommendation of the democratic county central committee, but the post office department failed to appoint him.

A few weeks ago, it was announced that a new inquiry would be held. Mr. Johnson, Mr. Peterson and Mr. Thompson understood that they could take the inquiry again, or could allow their old ratings to stand. Their names did not appear on the questionnaires received today.

It is believed that the procedure will be for the commission to weigh the old questionnaires, by which the three were chosen, as against the new questionnaires. It is considered possible, therefore, for the civil service commission to again certify the old list. It also is considered likely by observers that one or more of the six will make the list of three.

Friends of Mrs. Wetlin have contended that with her experience as postmaster, she should have no difficulty in getting on the list this time. Those close to democratic politics say that the powers that be in local democratic circles long ago decided that the job was to go to Mrs. Wetlin.

Some States Ban Carrying of Liquor in Car

Carrying liquor in a car may bring grief to motor tourists in certain states, warns the Automobile club of Southern California. Liquor sales are banned entirely in the seven states of Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and Tennessee, where statutory prohibition is in effect, and Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas where both constitutional and statutory prohibition are in effect. Two states, Florida and North Carolina, are partly wet and partly dry, depending on the county. In the other 39 states sales have been legalized.

"As a result of the continued high record of automobile fatalities and accidents, transportation of liquor in automobiles even in 'wet' territory involves serious risks," says the club. "The tendency almost everywhere is to press charges of driving while under the influence of liquor and to impose heavier penalties. In dry states violations such as transportation of liquor call for severe penalties."

THE REWARD
By Mary Graham Bonner

Willy Nilly was thinking quickly. "I said in the advertisement that the reward would be whatever the finder wanted," Willy Nilly began. "My cub, Jupiter, has agreed to go for Rip's sake."

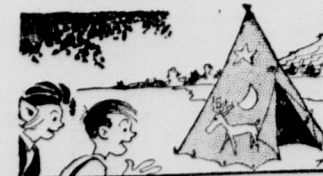

"You have the right to claim him, but I only want to ask you a few questions. Would you, when you've restored one of our animal family whom we have missed so that we have been a miserable set of creatures, want to take another of our family away?"

"Here the cub is free and can roam around as he wishes. There's plenty of country around Puddle Muddle. Our roads are so bad people do not often come here."

"If you took him away he would be miserable and would be of little pleasure to you, try as hard as he might to be at his best."

"I understand animal talk, but you don't. What would you do with him?"

"I could give him a long chain and let him play around our yard. My friends would come and see him and none of them would tease him."

Suddenly Bert's eyes rested on the Indian tepee.

"I don't suppose I could have that tepee," Bert asked. "Oh, no, that's asking for too much. It's a beauty. It looks as though Indians had really made it!"

"They did? You may have it! It's not asking too much!" cried Willy Nilly almost in one breath.

"Are you sure?" Bert asked. "I'm interested in all Indian things."

"I'm sure, sure, sure," cried Willy Nilly.

"Sure, sure, sure," cackled, crowed, cawed, bleated, growled and quacked the others.

COUNTY FOLK FARE WELL OIL PROBE TO START SOON

Million Paid Policy Holders

More than $1,000,000 was paid to life insurance policy holders and beneficiaries in Orange county in 1934. Fullerton, with $380,800 such payments, led the list of Orange county cities. Santa Ana was second, with $34,000.

These figures, contained in a special issue of the National Underwriter, insurance publication, were made public today by Guy Gilbert, insurance man of this city.

Payments in other cities of the county were listed in the publication as follows: Anaheim, $168,000; Huntington Beach, $43,000; and Placentia, $42,000.

The largest payment in the county was to the beneficiaries of the late E. S. Gregory of Fullerton, the amount being $280,000. Another large death payment was on the policy of Clarence A. Neighbors, Anaheim, $32,000.

Total payments in the state were $172,000,000. More than $3,000,000,000 was paid last year in the nation. The total for the last five years was $14,764,000,000. Last year $21,960,000 was paid in double indemnities. There were 913 claims of more than $30,000 each.

The assembly committee appointed to investigate bribery charges in connection with legislative action on the Huntington Beach tideland oil problem will meet soon after August 15.

This is the committee at which Supervisor N. E. West of Laguna Beach will be asked to testify. Mr. West has predicted that the Huntington Beach oil controversy will develop into a scandal worse than the Teapot Dome affair.

RELIEF ASKED ON PROPERTY

Five petitions have been filed in superior court seeking relief for harried property owners under provisions of the mortgage moratorium act of 1935.

Topping the list of property owners seeking postponement of foreclosure and sales proceedings is the First National bank of Santa Ana. In a petition naming the Orange County Title company, G. M. Tralle and Mrs. Florence L. Gorzeman, the bank is seeking postponement of the sale of Corona del Mar property held in trust by the bank. The defendants are seeking foreclosure of a trust deed executed against the property as security for a promissory note for $6975.

Mrs. Cora A. Stockton has filed two petitions asking postponement of the anticipated sale of Huntington Beach properties. In one she has named the First National bank of Santa Ana as defendant and alleges that under a trust deed given to secure a promissory note for $3000 the bank has elected to sell certain of her Huntington Beach properties on August 12.

In the second she alleges that Aaron Engel also has declared a default under a trust deed given to secure an $8,000 loan on other Huntington Beach property and also is planning to sell the land August 12.

Bernard Burke has petitioned the court to order postponement of the sale of his Orange county property under foreclosure of a trust deed given to secure a loan of $2,500.

A similar petition has been filed by Floyd G. Spencer against E. L. Gorzeman. The petition alleges that Mr. Gorzeman received the trust deed as security for a loan of $7,500.

Since the organization is a voluntary health organization, dedicated to public service, it is proper for it to make this valuable contribution.

It is interesting in this connection to recall that while mankind from time immemorial has appreciated instinctively the health-giving qualities of the sun and of air, it was in the treatment of skin, gland and bone tuberculosis that the healing qualities of sun-

DELEGATING DUTY

Mrs. X was a very timid woman, and if the truth were told a lazy and irresponsible one as well. She did not like to discipline her children or even speak to them sharply, and did what she could to avoid a disagreeable scene with them.

When they did wrong or grew unmanageable she simply waited until their father came home and turned the matter over to him. He was stronger and firmer than I am, and can deal with them much better. Furthermore, he is not bothered by the children as much as I am, so they respect him more."

Duties grew increasingly arduous as time went on and the children grew older and more enterprising. Their respect for their mother lessened as they realized the weakness, and someone had to be hailed before the father every evening. In time the children came to fear their father, despise their mother, and obey neither.

Mrs. X was wrong in more ways than one. In the first place, timidity and laziness are both demoralizing to children. A child develops best and is happiest under firm and decisive handling.

Don't Delay Punishment

Secondly, punishment delayed is often worse than none at all. If the child is old enough to realize his wrong-doing and dread the punishment which he knows must come, the delay is torture. If, as is more often the case, he has forgotten the offense by evening, the penalty seems uncalled for and unjust.

But the worst wrong Mrs. X committed was against her husband and children in cutting them off from one another in delegating their duties to him and so forcing him to play the unpleasant role of executioner in the little time he had with his children. Parents should mete out their own justice and not shift it to others.

47 SCOUTS OFF TO ROKILI

Forty-seven Boy Scouts left Santa Ana headquarters on North Sycamore street early yesterday to join other Orange county boys at Camp Rokili in the San Bernardino mountains.

Paul Egelar, of troop 93, Fullerton, has signed to attend the national jamboree in Washington, D. C., August 21-30, which brings the county's representation to 14.

Junior Paul, George Dawson, Tom Trawick, Bob Wright, Frank Brooks, William Drutt, Billy Hull, Dick Kendall, Donald Haven, Harold Hall, David Carmichael, Jr., Dan Russell, Bill Lewellyn, Jr., Ivan Johnson, Jack Warton, Bird Gross, Leslie Burgess, Marvin Terbest, John Minque, John Perkins, Eddie Armstrong, John Jagers, Bob Fowler, Russell Chamberlain, Duane Miller, Everett Davis, Douglas Allen, Richard Heinche, Raymond Marsile and Mickey Snee.

Officers in Orange county booked three men at the Orange county jail over the week-end on charges of drunk driving. Two of them, Augustine Soldner, 46, of El Monte, and John E. Sullivan, 36, of 119 Harvard street, Fullerton, were arrested by Constable William Tremaine of Brea. The third, Edward Vedolia, 29, of 309 Daisy street, Santa Ana, was arrested by Santa Ana police.

'A RABBIT IN EVERY HAT' HOLLYWOOD HOST TO MAGICIANS

HOLLYWOOD, Tuesday, July 23. (AP)—With bated breath, the film capital expected eggs to roll out from mouths and rabbits to bounce from silk hats as 500 exponents of hocus pocus gathered today for the annual convention of the Pacific Coast Association of Magicians.

The abracadabra brethren open their three-ray conclave tomorrow with the piece de resistance a Friday night performance open to the public, in which 10 outstanding doctors of deception will present a full program of magic in which not a single trick is to be repeated.

L. O. Gunn, one of the disciples of Merlin, will attempt to escape (and undoubtedly will) from a straitjacket while hanging from the side of a hotel building. He also will break out of a jail cell and shake off handcuffs the police fasten to his wrists.

Right through the downtown streets the magicians will stage a race between blindfolded drivers. The public will be asked to examine the blindfolds.

In the main, feats of legerde-main will be confined to gatherings of the magicians themselves. There will be numerous competitions for trophies and prizes, involving coins, playing cards and scores of new devices. A "death ray gun" is one of the innovations. It is the work of "The Great Leon."

Have Many Trophies

Among the trophies to be awarded are the Harry Houdini memorial for outstanding showmanship, the T. Page Wright memorial for most original magic creation, the Caryl S. Fleming perpetual trophy for best comedy effect and many others.

The magicians' convention this year has as its prosperity slogan: "A rabbit in every hat." The expression who brought a trunk into the convention hotel wished strictly to the central theme when, as he sat his burden down, there emerged a figure in a high topper who stepped out and began bouncing 10 red balls.

About that time, also, another delegate emerged from the right coat sleeve of a traveling salesman from Peoria, Ill.

ORANGE GROVE DEAL IS MADE

A deal whereby the L. E. Reynolds 15-acre bearing orange grove between East Chapman avenue and Palm street, Orange, has been acquired by A. Wardman of Whittier was made public here today by the Santa Ana Realty corporation. The Reynolds grove was valued at $2000 an acre in the transaction.

Mr. Wardman exchanged a clear 14-acre orange grove at Lindsay and paid a balance in cash in consummating the deal. Mr. Reynolds, the seller, is a San Diego man.

The citrus holdings of Mr. Wardman in Orange county now total in the neighborhood of 380 acres. He also owns groves in Riverside, San Bernardino and Los Angeles counties. He started buying citrus acreage during the depression when prices were low. Mr. Wardman is president of the Whittier Telephone company. All his local transactions have been made through the Santa Ana Realty corporation.

U. S. C. TO FEATURE PRAGUE EDUCATOR

Dr. Theo Suranyi-Unger, professor of international politics at the University of Prague, Czechoslovakia, who is considered one of the foremost international economists of the day, is to conduct two courses during the second term of the University of Southern California summer session, it was announced by Dean Lester B. Rogers.

"Present European Economic Problems" and "International Economic Relations" are two classes to be conducted by the European economist. Beginning Saturday, July 27, the second term at U. S. C. will extend to August 30.

SANTA ANA'S BUILDING GAIN MAKES IT SOUTHLAND'S WHITE SPOT

INCREASE IN PERMITS IS 346.6 PCT.

Only One Other City Exceeds Local Mark For Six Months

Santa Ana's building gain in the first half of 1935 has made it the white spot of Southern California. The percentage of increase in building permit valuations here was greater than in any other Southland city during this period.

This city's record also was one of the most outstanding in the entire state. Only San Luis Obispo exceeded the mark made by Santa Ana.

This analysis was revealed in the Bank of America Business Review for July, distributed here by the local Bank of America, of which C. K. Dodds is manager.

Gain 346.6 Per Cent

Santa Ana's building increase for the first six months of this year represented a gain of 346.6 per cent over building for the first six months of 1934. Alhambra was the closest competitor in Southern California, with a percentage increase of 177.7. In the northern portion of the state San Luis Obispo led, with 187.9 per cent.

With permits issued in June for construction costing $29,236, this month in Santa Ana was 214.3 per cent better than June, 1934 when the valuation was $9301, the survey showed. This June figure also was 99.9 higher than the figure for June, 1933.

Permits Total $680,431

Building permits for construction valued at $680,431 were issued during the first six months of this year. The figure for the corresponding period last year was $152,648.

Building permits for the state as a whole during the first six months were 107.2 above their valuation for the first half of 1934, the valuation being $8,052,972.

MAN IS DIAPER CHAMPION!

Taught Wife In Early Days

SEATTLE, Monday, July 23. (AP) Women were disdainful today because a man—competing only against men—held the city diaper changing championship today. But even the most scornful was compelled to admit that the champion—W. H. Love, 29-year-old father—had done a fast, neat job when he switched diapers on his son Jerry, seven months, in 16 seconds flat.

Love won his title before a throng of freak-derby-loving persons who gathered at the Hostess house in Woodland park yesterday, expecting to see 12 men and 12 women in a pin-to-the-finish race. The field, however, dwindled down to three men when the other entrants developed jitter, colds or pique at the last minute.

The withdrawal of the women was attributed by W. P. Shapiro, chairman of the derby committee, to the fact the men on the eve of the race demanded a 10-second handicap over the women. The rules committee refused to grant the handicap.

Considered a rank outsider by the bettors, Love was a 10 to 1 shot when the gong rang. In the twinkling of three safety pins, Love forged to the front and led the field in the stretch.

"I was in better training than the others," he said in explaining his success. "There were 21 children in my own family, and I have three other youngsters besides Jerry."

Love's wife, a somewhat nervous spectator, said after it was over that her husband's success was his own.

"You see, he taught me how to change diapers when our first baby came," Mrs. Love said.

TO MAKE REPORT ON ORANGE WORM SITUATION HERE

Agricultural Commissioner D. W. Tubbs and entomologists from the citrus experiment station at Riverside will report on the orange worm situation in Orange county at a field meeting next Friday in Jack Fisher park. The session will start at 9:30 a. m., after which the growers attending will inspect a nearby orchard.

The meeting has been arranged by the farm advisor's office. A. M. Boyce and A. J. Bassinger, entomologists of the experiment station, will be the other speakers on the program. Recommendations for control will be made.

CHAIN STORE TAX BATTLE UNDER WAY

SAN FRANCISCO, Tuesday, July 23. (AP)—A possibility that a constitutional technicality may forestall overthrow of the chain store tax bill signed by Governor Merriam last Saturday did not deter chain interests today from proceeding with plans to ask California voters to kill the law.

Attorney General U. S. Webb was asked by Attorneys Bartley C. Crum of San Francisco and A. J. Luke of Los Angeles, in separate requests, to prepare the necessary referendum blanks for distribution "as speedily as possible."

Webb's chief assistant, Robert Harrison, however, said that if the law is held by the courts to be a general tax measure, a referendum cannot be initiated against it, under the provisions of the state's constitution.

In any event, he added, the referendum must be held before the law becomes operative next fall, else legislative action alone can effect repeal.

Designed to raise $4,000,000 a year, the new tax assesses a levy of $500 a year on all stores over the ninth store in any one chain.

BLAST, BLAZE DAMAGE BIG DISTILLERY

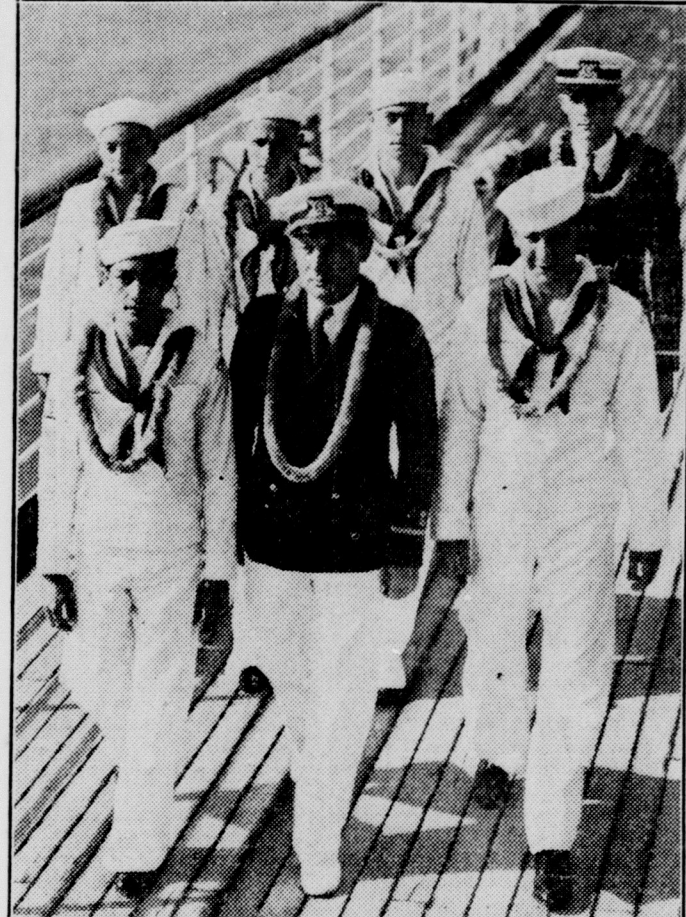

PEORIA, Ill., Tuesday, July 23. (AP)—Fire, which swept the huge $6,500,000 Hiram Walker distillery following a terrific explosion, was brought under control today after causing damage estimated at $2,700,000.

Twelve men were injured in the blaze and searches were seeking the body of John Martin, an employee, missing since the blast in the rackhouse where he was working.

Six million gallons of whisky were set afire, sending greenish-yellow flames high into the sky. Rackhouse No. 3, where the blast occurred, was destroyed. The six-story steel building fell to pieces under the intense heat. Although the fire was under control, firemen said it would be sometime before the whisky burned itself out.

Other structures in the $6,500,000 plant—said to be the largest distillery in the world—were seriously damaged. Frank Dornberger, an employee, was blown from the doorway of the rackhouse into an excavation 20 feet from the blazing building.

BUS PLOTTER HELD AS 24 MISS DEATH

TRUCKEE, Calif., Tuesday, July 23. (AP)—Neil McCue of Chicago, accused of having jeopardized the lives of 24 passengers on a transcontinental bus by grabbing the steering wheel and attempting to turn the huge machine over a bank and into Donner lake, was held in custody here today.

Quick action by a Sharnsburg, Pa., minister, Rev. A. French, and the driver of the bus, Fred Mund of Oakland, was credited with having prevented a tragedy.

When McCue suddenly lunged forward and wrestled for control of the steering wheel, Rev. French, other passengers said, leaped upon the man, giving the driver time enough to set emergency brakes and stop the bus just four feet short of the waters of the lake.

McCue's 11-year-old son, Thomas, who boarded the stage with him at Reno, remained on the bus. The boy said he and his father were en route to San Francisco.

DEAN CAMPBELL LEAVES BANK FOR INVESTMENT JOB

Dean Campbell, who for 16 years has been with the First National bank here, has resigned from his position as manager of the bank's collection department and has affiliated with Banks-Huntley and company, investment brokers.

In his new work Mr. Campbell will be associated with William L. Allen, manager, and with Alex Brownridge, George Baker and Jack Colburn.

Last night Mr. Campbell resigned from his position as deputy city treasurer, a post which he has held for six years. The city council appointed Herbert P. Klotzly in his place, on the recommendation of Miss Margaret Esau, city treasurer.

Mr. Majors will return to Santa Ana Friday.

MRS. WALEY ON WAY TO PRISON

TACOMA.—The girl the government convicted of kidnapping George Weyerhaeuser was speeding across the country today on a journey which will end at the federal women's prison at Milan, Mich.

Mrs. Margaret Thulin Waley, 19, former Salt Lake City girl, in the custody of U. S. Marshal A. J. Chitty and Mrs. Chitty, left Tacoma last night for the prison to which she has been sentenced for 20 years.

MIDGET COINS WILL SAVE USERS MONEY

WASHINGTON.—The midget coins the government proposes to mint will save sales taxpayers, officials said today. But at present there is no half-cent coin, and so, in many instances, a full cent is collected.

Secretary Morgenthau announced last night that "within the next day or so," Congress will be asked to grant permission for the creation of half-cent and one-cent pieces. The purpose, it was said, was to correct inequities in sales tax systems which now prevail in 22 states.

Most of these states have a 2 per cent sales levy. If a person makes a 25-cent purchase, the tax would be a half cent. But at present there is no half-cent coin, and so, in many instances, a full cent is collected.

RUBIDOUX BOY KILLED IN BANNING WRECK

BANNING.—One man was dead today and two others lay seriously injured as a result of a motor mishap. Stanley Rubidoux, descendant of a pioneer Riverside family, was killed, and his brother, Arthur, and Arthur Reid, of Indio, were hurt when their car crashed through a fence on jack-rabbit trail near Beaumont yesterday and dropped 100 feet.

POST, WILL ROGERS QUIET ON HOP PLANS

LOS ANGELES.—Wiley Post, unusually taciturn, remained uncommunicative today concerning a so-called pleasure flight to Moscow.

The flier's new monoplane was pronounced ready to go into the air for Seattle, the first leg of his proposed 11,000-mile trip, but Post would not say when he would take off.

Similarly, he declined to confirm reports that Will Rogers, actor-humorist, would accompany him. Rogers himself kept silent, too. Although his wife was said to have told friends he planned to fly with Post.

BIRTH CONTROL STAND STUDIED BY SYNOD

SAN FRANCISCO.—With adjournment set for tomorrow, delegates attending the annual California Synod of the Presbyterian church today focused their attention upon reports of a sub-committee on war, marriage, movie censorship and possibly birth control. The reports will constitute the subcommittee's recommendations on social education subjects.

STRIKERS TIE UP 3 AMERICAN SHIPS

VANCOUVER, B. C.—Three United States ships, the Point Ancha, the Golden State and the West Mahwah, were tied up here today as a result of their crew's refusal to load the vessel or provide steam for the winches. Longshoremen have been on strike at this port for several weeks, and the rebellion of the crews was believed by authorities to be in the nature of a sympathy strike.

Family Honors Muriel Bray at Installation Services for Native Daughters

Tokens From Daughters Presented

Staff From Ontario Under Maude Van Fleet Takes Charge of Ceremonies

Surrounded by members of her own family bringing good wishes for a prosperous term, Muriel Bray took over the president's post of the Native Daughters of Golden West at installation services held last night in the K. of C. hall. More than 100 persons attended.

Mrs. Effie Van Fleet of Ontario, mother of Mrs. Bray, acted as chairman of the evening. Maude Van Fleet, also of Ontario, deputy grand president for Santa Ana parish, and a sister-in-law, headed the installation staff. Theresa Stafford, sister of the president, was present and Mrs. Bray's three daughters, Muriel, Joan and Geraldine, presented their mother with a basket of flowers.

Wearing a white satin formal, Mrs. Bray carried a corsage of white gardenias, bordered with red rosebuds, colors of the lodge. Ruth Kotlar, past president, wore white satin and like other officers and members of the installing staff, carried orchid gladiolas.

Dedicate Music

As Mrs. Bray took office, Vada Austin, acting grand organist, dedicated a whistling solo to her. Maude Van Fleet dedicated a solo, "I Love You Truly" to her, and Effie Van Fleet read an original poem in her honor.

The installation ode was sung by Mrs. Kotlar, accompanied by Mrs. Austin at the piano. Several other whistling numbers were presented by Mrs. Austin.

Brief congratulatory talks were given by Hazel Hansen and Nellie Cline, grand trustees; Maude Van Fleet, deputy grand president; Mary Noerenberg, grand outside sentinel; Helen Anderson, supervising district deputy, and Lillian Zirkel, retiring deputy. Parlor representatives were Golden Gate of San Francisco, Californians of Hollywood, Verdugo of Glendale, Rudewinda of San Pedro, Ontario, Grace of Placentia and San Diego.

Given Ring

Emblematic of her office, a past president's ring was presented Ruth Kotlar by Mae West. Gifts were showered upon Mrs. Bray, Mrs. Kotlar and Mrs. West.

Refreshments were served at a lace-covered table, set with silver and decorative food.

The installing staff included Maude Van Fleet, deputy grand president; Isabel Graves, acting marshal; Edith Osgood, acting grand past president; Ruth Beck, acting grand vice president; Helen Hickman, grand marshal; Wilma Tucker, acting grand recording secretary; Velda Wiley, acting grand outside sentinel; Marion McKee, acting grand inside sentinel; Vada Austin, acting grand organist.

Those installed were Muriel Bray, president; Ruth Kotlar, first vice president; Mattie Edwards, second vice president; Myrtle Ellis, third vice president; Matilda Lemon, recording secretary; Stella Gates, assisting recording secretary; Hazel Paul, financial secretary; Florence Watson, treasurer; Gladys Edwards, marshal; Olive Witt, inside sentinel; Gertrude Etzold, outside sentinel; Alice Rogers, organist; Genevieve Hickey, Martha Devenney, and Rose Ford, trustees.

Committee appointments announced last night included Matilda Lemon, history, Americanism and publicity; Mattie Edwards, Thimble club and home-ness children; Mae West, veteran and local welfare; Marguerite Mize, finance; Mildred Gray, program; Mattie Edwards, parliamentarian; Martha Devenney and Elizabeth Marsile, membership team; Marguerite Mize, Mattie Edwards and Myrtle Ellis, arrangers, poster, relics and flowers. August 7 was set as the date of a picnic with the Native Sons. On invitation of Mattie Edwards, the organization will make a visit to her Arrowhead summer home sometime next month.

Love At 16 Is Ignorant of Demands Lasting Devotion Makes Upon Married People

By MARY STODDARD

"Isn't it possible for a first love to be the real love and be lasting?" Thus queries a 16-year-old miss who signs herself Lila.

"And, if this isn't possible," she continues, "will you please tell me why it isn't?"

Lila's story is the old tale of young romance which, when it first comes to youth, is ever new. She's in love with a neighbor lad of 22 and they want to marry. Her parents object and, if I can give her any encouragement about this first love being the only love, she's going to elope.

100 W. R. C. MEMBERS ATTEND CONCLAVE AT COSTA MESA

Nearly 100 women from 12 Orange county Women's Relief Corps units and their guests attended an all-day federation day program yesterday in Greener's hall, Costa Mesa. Harold K. Grauel, president of the Costa Mesa chapter of commerce welcomed the visitors to the city. Clara Winn of Fullerton, district president, presided.

Committee reports were given and a general review of the summer work was made at the afternoon business meeting, opened by community singing. Miss Olive Payne, harbor high school student, read "The Bride's First Trip to the Butcher Shop." A. M. Baker of Orange and Fred Stuelke of Fullerton, both civil war veterans, were honored guests.

A centerpiece of summer flowers was used on the dining table. In the dinner hour, gifts were presented to the honoree. A dessert course of ice cream and candle-lit birthday cake was served.

Later, cards were played. Present for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Carothers and their children, Wayne and Bobby Ann, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Swarthout and daughter, Patty Jeanne, Mrs. Maude Swarthout and Miss Ruth Lee.

Fashions To Be Shown Friday

With supervisors from Orange county, Pomona, Riverside, Los Angeles, and San Bernardino units invited to attend, an evening summer fashion show will be presented by SARA sewing workers of the Santa Ana project Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the Fuller building at Fourth and Van Ness streets.

William P. Tway, chief of works division, and Terrance H. Halloran, director of Orange county SARA, will make brief talks, and Fred P. Jayne, manager of professional, technical, and women's work will give a review of the project here which has attracted attention of SARA directors throughout the state.

Original songs by Helen Mathews will be sung during the evening with Mame Haven at the piano. The SARA orchestra will play under direction of Leon Eckles. Nellie A. Stroh, supervisor, will act as chairman.

Models who will display the dresses, which have been made by the workers, will be Ruth Selbe, Tillie Rentschler, Viola Bailey, Mabel Tart, Helen Mathews, Pearl Richards, Edna Flood, Ada Stanley, Alice Pratt, Elma Pratt, Gladys Buck, Pearl Padrick, Gertrude Wilcox, Ethel Hutchison, Emma McIntyre, Edith Valentine, Ella Goodman and Nellie Dearborn.

Because space at the hall is limited, Mrs. Stroh, supervisor, has asked that only adults attend the show.

TWO GIRLS FETED WITH PARTY IN COSTA MESA HOME

Misses Laura Jean Johnson and Betty Jean Bailey were complimented on occasion of their 14th birthday anniversaries with a party given by Mrs. Alice Johnson of 2201 Newport road, and Mrs. Frank Flattery in the latter's home on Orange avenue, Costa Mesa.

Eighteen couples were present. The afternoon was spent in playing games. At a late hour, a luncheon course was served.

Well, Lila, I'll wager if you'd interview every married man you know, your dad included, and they'd tell you the truth, you'd find that very few of them are married to the women whom they first told their love to.

And you might dig around into the great past romances for a little more information. Dante loved Beatrice first but married Gamma. Romeo was sentimental about Rosalind before he looked up and saw Juliet on her balcony.

Some men, such as Shakespeare and Shelley, married the first boy or girl they loved and spent their lives wishing they had never loved at all.

Women usually marry the first man to whom they tell their love if that man is so inclined. That is, those little women like Lila who are sincere and want homes and babies of their own. And usually that's their fatal error. If you don't believe me, just attend a few sessions of the divorce court.

First Love Is Sweet
First love is sweet, a preface to devotion. The whole world is as clean and as gay as a piece of new spring sky. Joy trembles a little, and you wonder how you can bear the glory of the world if it always stays so beautiful. It doesn't, of course. You grow a little older, a little wiser, and get hurt a little more often. You learn

Marian Martin Says Daintiness Without Fussiness Is Aim

Because daintiness without fussiness should be the aim of every woman of ample proportions Marian Martin advises you to depend on the color and design of fabric for daintiness and stick to trimly tailored lines in your patterns! You've no idea how flattering that surprise-like tape can be and how slenderizing the panelled skirt becomes when fashioned of shadowy black and white print silk. Twin scallops, accented with buttons, lend a decorative tailored note. Crystal buttons and buckles are in high fashion now and look ever so well with voiles, chiffons, sheers and crepes of floral design. Complete, diagrammed Marian Martin Sew Chart included.

Pattern 9482 may be ordered only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44. Size 36 requires 4 yards 39 inch fabric.

Send 15 cents in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for each Marian Martin pattern. Be sure to write plainly your Name, Address, the Style Number and Size of each pattern.

The Marian Martin Summer Pattern book will lead your way to warm weather chic! From its 40 pages view the parade of clothes for every occasion for every member of the family. Designs all beautifully illustrated, patterns all easy to make. Styles for the small girl, the dashing deb, the blushing bride and the mature matron plus some useful hints and some delightful reading. Send for your copy now! Price of book 15 cents. Book and pattern together, 25 cents.

Address orders to The Journal, 117 East Fifth St., Santa Ana.

The Thinkers

Wherein women of the community express their views on topics of particular interest to women. If there is a question that interests or puzzles you, suggest it, and we will collect opinions on it for you!

Why have you chosen your garden as a hobby?

Mrs. J. E. Paul—I was first interested in gardening from a standpoint of health. It's meant a great deal to me that way. Then I grew to an enjoyment of my garden. It's so inspiring to see things grow and develop. From a tiny seedling I go out and work in the garden. There's the pleasure, too, of sharing it with others. So many of one's personal possessions cannot be shared so freely, but a garden can be. No real gardener is selfish with his garden.

Mrs. Edward Walker—I like my garden because it is the most interesting thing I know of, to plant things and watch them grow. It's wonderful to see what you get from a tiny seed. My gardening is a part of me. Then, too, my garden brings joy to passersby. Even children stop and admire my flowers.

Mrs. M. E. Geeting—I believe my love for my garden came from my love of poetry, that constantly links them together. If you read poetry, you cannot help but read continuously and think along the lines of nature and gardens, and the feeling for a garden is thus born within you.

Mrs. Clyde Walker—I like my garden because of the joy it brings around the home and inside. And I cherish the pleasure of passing flowers on to friends and neighbors.

REUNION OF FORMER KANSANS IS HELD IN ANAHEIM PARK

Former neighbors of the Long Island, Kans., community who now live in Southern California gathered Sunday at Anaheim park for a picnic reunion.

Guests were Mrs. Mary Carl of Los Angeles, Mrs. Maude Mischke and three sons of North Platte, Neb., Miss Ethel Howard of Long Island, Kans., here on a visit, Bert Kilbrow, Exeter, Calif., Will Cozad of Westminster, Mrs. Gladys Caldwell of Tustin, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kenyon, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Ballew, and Mrs. Charles Halderman, Mr. and Mrs. Barrett Halderman and children, Audrey and Frances, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Kuhl, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dietrich, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Burrier and son, Edward, Mr. and Mrs. Will Dietrich, Bert Cozad, Mr. and Mrs. David Caldwell of Santa Ana.

Ray Carl, well known among former Kansans, was unable to be present since he is recovering from a stroke he underwent several weeks ago.

JOB'S DAUGHTERS HAVE FIRST OF SINGING PARTIES

Inaugurating a series of singing parties, members of Job's Daughters met yesterday afternoon at the home of Miss Mildred Pearson, 1029 West Second street, to practice ritual songs.

Following the rehearsal, the girls played "whoopie" and knitted. The day's prize went to Virginia Stewart. Present were Misses Marian Pletke, Ellen Neal, Betty Carlson, Janet Hollingsworth, Anna May Archer, Louise Rowland, Helen Pearce, Lorraine Wheeler, Virginia Stewart, Eupha Neer, and the hostess.

Announcement that an orchestra has been secured for dancing at the De Molay-Job's Daughters' picnic at Irvine park July 30 was made today. Maurice Lycan and Lorraine Wheeler are in charge of the affair.

The regular meeting of Job's Daughters will be held tonight at 7:15 o'clock in the Masonic temple.

MAGNOLIA R. N. A. PLANS PICNICS

Two pot-luck suppers were scheduled for members of Magnolia camp, Royal Neighbors of America, at last night's meeting of the organization held in the K. of P. hall.

Thursday, July 25, Magnolia circle will sponsor a supper in Anaheim park for members with their families and friends at 6 o'clock. August 5, the camp will hold a picnic at the same place at that hour also, for friends and families.

Mrs. Alma Knowlton won the gift of the evening. Mrs. Gertrude Birt presided in the absence of the oracle, Lenore Farmer.

Watermelon was served at the close of the meeting by a committee of Mrs. Nina Drake, chairman, Mrs. May Lagasse, W. C. Drake and Charles Carlson. Dancing followed.

Andersons To Be At Home To Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Anderson (Bertha M. Moses), who were married Sunday afternoon in St. Mary's Episcopal church, Laguna Beach, and are honeymooning in Northern California, will be at home to their friends next week in Santa Ana.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bicknell of Saskatchewan, Canada. Her husband is the son of Mrs. S. Anderson of Lacy street. The Rev. Robert Hogarth officiated at their wedding, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simpson of Garden Grove attended the couple.

Mrs. Anderson has been employed in the office of the Santora building for more than four years. Her husband was educated in Santa Ana and is employed by the Globe Grain and Milling company.

MINISTER WHO CHRISTENED BRIDE PERFORMS NUPTIALS

An unusual bit of sentiment was observed in the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Fogle, daughter of Mrs. E. J. Fogle, to Charles M. Whitman, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Whitman, Santa Ana, in the G. Harold Fogle home on South Sycamore street, Sunday morning, for the minister who officiated, the Rev. J. Harvey Deer of San Bernardino First Baptist church, christened Miss Fogle in her infancy.

The bride wore pink net over satin, with picture hat and other accessories in pink. She carried a point lace handkerchief, which the bridegroom's mother carried at her wedding. Her shower bouquet was pink tea roses and lilies of the valley, whose corsage center she later wore with her blue crepe and taffeta traveling suit.

Mrs. Judson Esby of Phoenix, Ariz., in aqua blue georgette with yellow tea rose and sweet pea bouquet, attended her sister, who was given in marriage by her brother, G. Harold Fogle.

Norvell Whitman, twin brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Before the ceremony Mrs. Charles Miles, pianist, played "To a Wild Rose" and "An Sweet Mystery of Life" and during the ceremony she played.

The bride's niece and nephew, Eleanor and Paul Stanley Bassford, and Mrs. J. C. Holehan of Phoenix, Ariz., and Miss Mary Camp of Long Beach assisted in receiving the guests at a reception in the garden of the home.

The bride's mother wore printed georgette and gardenias and Mrs. Whitman wore rose lace and crepe with gardenias.

After a wedding trip through the north, the newlywed couple will return to Santa Ana to live at 526 South Parton street.

Mrs. Whitman is in the offices of the Automobile club of Orange county. She was educated in Arizona and in Los Angeles. Her husband is a graduate of Santa Ana High school and of Occidental college, where he was a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity. He is now employed at the Empire market.

ALASKA RESIDENT COMPLIMENTED AT FAMILY PARTY

E. D. Wheeler, native Santa Ana whose home is now in Ketchikan, Alaska, was honored guest at a family reunion held yesterday at the Whittier home of his brother, James Wheeler.

The honor guest's father, D. Wheeler, 1127 West Pine street, and Messrs. and Mesdames S. O. Wheeler, A. A. Verbesky, A. A. Maddox, Charles Plummer and Harvey Greenleaf were present from Santa Ana.

Mr. Wheeler, who is a fox rancher in Alaska, is recovering from a serious illness, and plans to remain in Santa Ana visiting relatives until November.

MARK ANNIVERSARY WITH DINNER PARTY

Celebrating their sixth wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Bonner Paul of 408 Garfield entertained at a dinner party last night.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Stock of Huntington Beach, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Bohan, with their families, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Johnson, parents of Mrs. Paul.

BALBOA ATTRACTS SANTA ANA PARTY

Off for 10 days at Balboa, a group of Santa Ana girls left yesterday for a vacation at the beach.

Those who went were the Misses Helen Markel, Rosemary Ashen, Geraldine Haupt, Dorin Haupt, Barbara Davis, and Bernice Brochard and Mrs. Walter Markel.

Three slices bacon, 1 green pepper, 1 onion. Chop finely and brown in a little fat. Add 1 can shoepeg corn, 1/2 cup to tomato sauce, salt and pepper. Simmer for 10 minutes.

FROZEN SALAD

Mrs. A. J. Cruickshank
Tustin
Ingredients: 4 egg yolks, 1 scant tablespoon mustard, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon sugar. Olive oil or Wesson oil, lemon juice, 1/2 cup cream, whipped. Whites of 4 eggs, gelatine, 1 can of white cherries, cut, 1 can of pineapple, cut, 3/4 cup blanched walnuts or almonds, or any other fruit desired.

Directions: Work mustard, salt and sugar into egg yolks. Add oil, very slowly at first, and continue until thick enough to cleave from the dish in a ball. Thin with lemon juice until consistency of very thick cream.

Add whipped cream and stiffly beaten whites of eggs. To this mixture add envelope of gelatine, soaked five minutes in cold water and melted over hot water and slightly cooled. Add the fruit and nuts. Pack and freeze as for mousse, without stirring.

TWO SHARE HONORS AT BRIDGE LAWN PARTY FOR GROUP

Misses Jean Hasty and Ava Moore shared hostess honors in entertaining a group of friends at a party at the bridge lawn yesterday afternoon with a home on South Sycamore street.

Tables were placed under shade trees. Mrs. T. Davis and Miss Violet Wiedeman won prizes. The hostesses took their guests inside the home for the dessert course.

Other guests were Miss Evelyn Barnes, Miss Lucetta Barnes, Mrs. C. W. Crow, Miss Anna May Hendricks and Mrs. J. Owens.

COLUMN LAPSSES INTO WRESTLING

Unless you're a member of that bizarre fraternity of wrestling fans you may as well turn to page 12 and see what Skinny Skirvin has to say. This department, for a few paragraphs at least, is going to be devoted to purely personal observations jotted down between eruptions at last night's Ernie Dusek-Kiman Kudo battle.

Negroes don't seem to fit in to the razzing racket. For one thing, they are inevitably booted where a colored fighter seldom hears cat-calls. The psychology doesn't click. And, to top it all, few of them can wrestle a nickel's worth.

More and more the audience on Monday night is consisting of women and children. Nearly half of last night's crowd was in the classification favored by firemen and sailors for initial rescuing efforts. Women are by far the most excitable and most rabid fans. Last night the bulk of the customers had little affection for Jack Nelson, the colored grappler who inspired the above paragraph—but a buxom brunette in the third row cheered lustily for the guy. One felt that if she could have made it over the seats she would have demonstrated her admiration in a more affectionate manner.

Especially in instances where guys like Ernie Dusek, Man Mountain Dean, Tony Felice and others are wrestling, why would it not be a sensible plan to have two referees in the ring? Under the present one-man system an honest referee while watching for a likely fall in a bit of close going invariably misses a foul or two. And if he watches too closely for repeated fouling he may miss the fall. Wrestlers are of such bulk that it takes far too long to get from one side of them to the other. The dirt has often been done when Mr. Official arrives.

Talking to Bill Hoolahan, the handsomest wrestler of all, after the battle last night we learned that he may quit the mat game if a few movie jobs has had recently disclosed any promise in that Clark Gable pan of his.

Hoolahan, an affable, soft spoken, well-mannered chap with a magnetic smile, chatted amiably for a quarter of an hour, foregoing his turn in the shower to talk with us. We knew him briefly when he fought for Jerry the Greek, Jack Dempsey's old trainer, but we didn't know the kid had had such a tough career.

Quitting the prize ring at his family's insistence, he turned to wrestling, hung up 110 straight wins in New York before Toots Mondt, the biggest wrestling booker of them all, brought him west. Here he fell into evil hands, went back into fighting, figured in a frameup, lost some good billing, finally was slugged and double-crossed by his managers. Only now—his setback came six months ago—is he getting back on his feet enough so that he can again wrestle. Even so, chiseling managers, whom we insist are sportsmen's greatest parasites, have his corner, but he knotted that he finds it hard to make a living for his wife and boy.

But in the movies there is money and Hoolahan under another name belongs in the movies. Look for him in "The Great Ziegfeld" and "Diamond Jim Brady."

SANTA ANA CATCHES LARGE YELLOWTAIL
Landing a 39½-pound yellowtail, Walter Lewin of Santa Ana made the largest catch of the past seven days of fishing on the San Antonio live-bait boat off San Diego.

Lewin's fish was the largest of 318 yellowtail brought to gaff on the San Antonio.

On the San Antonio's sister boat, the Rex, 481 yellowtail and 59 tuna were caught over the seven-day period.

The Rex leaves San Diego at 2 a. m. daily for the Coronado Islands, and returns at 1 p. m. The San Antonio leaves at 4 a. m. and returns at 3 p. m. The latter boat is open for charter from Schipper & Sons, 1435 First Avenue, San Diego.

Joe Hurst, an El Centro young man who comes here highly recommended as a pitcher, will make his debut with the Santa Ana Stars against the Anaheim Valencias inside the Municipal bowl at 8:15 o'clock tonight.

Death of "Doc" Smith's father will keep the Santa Ana second-baseman out of the lineup tonight. Manager Denney will transfer to the infield. His regular outfield post will be manned by LeRoy "Chub" Sears.

Hailing from the same little community that gave Santa Ana its sensational Joe Cornelius a few years ago, Hurst has been signed to ease Jimmy Coates' burden.

PROBABLE LINEUPS
Santa Ana: L. Daley, rf; Lacy, ss; Denney, 2b; Hurst, c; Coates, p; Ballard, 1b; Preble, 3b; Young, 3b; Sears, lf; Koral, c.
Anaheim: Nola, lf; Jettberg, 3b; Denney, 2b; Comstock, ss; Wiseman, c; Hathcock, rf; Lemon, c; Bushman, p.

during the second half, and to strengthen the first-half champion Stars for a probable championship play-off series with Huntington Beach.

Stevens Is Retained
George Stevens, right-hander, will be retained by the club, according to Commissioner Horace Snow.

None of the Star officials, including Manager Tom Denney, has seen the newcomer play, but Denney is anxious to give him a trial. He plans to start Hurst tonight. Coates will enter the fray the minute Hurst weakens.

Accustomed to a 12-inch ball and a 37-foot pitching distance, Hurst has been striking out as high as 17 opponents in city league baseball in the valley. Officials believe it will not require much effort to readjust him to the 13½-inch ball and 35-foot pitching distance employed by the National League.

Conrad Out Indefinitely
Shortstop Francis Conrad, who dislocated his left shoulder while sliding into home plate against Westminster recently, may remain out of the lineup until the latter part of August. Cold has set in the injury, and he will be unable to play in three weeks, as previously announced. He has been out 10 days already, and can hardly move his left arm to the side. Conrad will be replaced again tonight by the dependable Tom Lacy.

WESTMINSTER PLAYS HUNTINGTON BEACH
Jimmy Jones, ex-Santa Ana, probably will break into the Westminster lineup at Huntington Beach tonight, when George Lackey's Aviators go up against Joe Rodgers' league-leading Oilers in the National Night Ball league's featured game at 8:15 o'clock.

Manager Lackey is having trouble with his outfield, and hopes to strengthen this department before the Flyers, now tied for third place, lose out completely in the second-half scramble. Jones probably will open in the gardens instead of Al Kohler, who was shifted from third base recently when Dan Leonard of Torrance joined the club.

Floyd Montgomery will roam centerfield. Ray Hapes will be in right.

The pitchers will be "Fuzzy" Errington for Westminster, Louie Neva for Huntington Beach.

Long Beach's Rear Admirals hit the road for a game with Ben Gelker's Olive Grenadiers. They will play on Orange's new city park grounds.

Don Kennedy, Golf Champ, To Play At Palos Verdes

Southern California's junior golf king, Don Kennedy, will play in Palos Verdes Country club's tenth annual invitational tournament which opens Friday. Young Kennedy plans to compete Thursday in qualifying rounds which get under way tomorrow.

Two other Santa Anas—Dean Campbell and Elmer Curry—also plan to enter the event.

Dusek Beats Kudo In Mat Argument

When is jiu-jitsu not jiu-jitsu? Ask anybody who was at last night's local wrestling show and they'll tell you the answer is: "Any time Ernie (Dirty) Dusek is performing in this once honorable art."

Carbon Copy Battle
Mustering all the dirt at his wide command and aided by some bizarre officiating late in the going, Dusek pounded out the winner over Kudo, the Japanese jiu-jitsu ace, before a houseful of keyed-up customers at the Orange county athletic club. The battle was a vivid carbon copy of the hectic battle staged here three weeks ago by the pair.

Mustering all the dirt at his wide command and aided by some bizarre officiating late in the going, Dusek pounded out the winner over Kudo, the Japanese jiu-jitsu ace, before a houseful of keyed-up customers at the Orange county athletic club. The battle was a vivid carbon copy of the hectic battle staged here three weeks ago by the pair.

Kudo evaded Dusek's futile attempts to gain a hold for the first fall, but fell victim again to the power-hoofed former snafus of the 218-pound goliath in 14 min. 47 secs. The rib-cracking moves were the only edge Dusek had.

Kindly word by Referee Dick Rutherford really saved Dusek in the jiu-jitsu stanza. Pre-battle agreement was that if Dusek removed his jacket he would forfeit the fall and the battle. Infuriated and humiliated by Kudo's tricky maneuvers, Dusek ripped his gown off but the third man, after much pleading and cajoling, managed to get it back on him. Kudo, who regretted openly afterward that he had been forced to resort to such tactics, went on to take the fall in 16 min. 29 secs. by making the neck hold—a really simple practice of wrapping the rival's gown so tightly about the throat that there is little to be done besides quitting.

Dusek Walks In
Dusek walked into his doom in this period by again starting to yank off his gown. Kudo, having lost faith in agreements, went to pressed to decision the Class B Grenadiers, 1-0, in 12 innings at Brea last night. Pitcher Lyle Morse's wild pitch with the Brea bases filled accounted for the narrow victory.

Irvine won in a walk, 15-2, at San Juan Capistrano. Hapes of Gene Thomas' Beaniepickers knocked a long home run with two aboard during the easy triumph.

Fullerton massacred Garden Grove, 23-3, and Huntington Beach upset Placentia, 7-5, in other games. Garden Grove's new team, comprised mainly of youngsters, appears weaker than Kenneth Dungan's entry that resigned shortly after the first half began.

Thursday's assignments: Fullerton at Huntington Beach, Olive at Irvine, Brea at San Juan Capistrano.

MINNESOTA AND ALABAMA STOCK ALL-STAR ELEVEN

CHICAGO, Tuesday, July 23. (P)—Minnesota, champion of the big ten, and Alabama's Rose Bowl victors, have been called upon by the nation's football fans to provide the framework for the college all-star battle front against August 29. Of the 22 senior members of the 1934 college and university teams named in a country-wide ballot that produced a total of 737,918 votes, five are from Minnesota and three started from Minnesota and three started from Alabama.

The all-American stars are Don Hutson of Alabama, and Frank Larson of Minnesota, ends; Tackle Bill Lee of Alabama, and Minnesota's star back, Francis (Pug) Lund. Selected on their records as Copher stars voted in were Fullback Stan Kostka, Guard Bill Bevan, and Tackle Phil Bengtson.

Howell May Play
Millard (Dixie) Howell, if he is able to obtain leave from his baseball employer, will round out the Alabama delegation.

NEW YORKERS UNHAPPY AS NINES SLIP

Yankees, Giants Only Half Game In Front Of Tigers, Cards

By ANDY CLARKE (Associated Press Staff Writer)
There is little joy on the sidewalks of New York, for the 5-cent series is in jeopardy.

A few weeks ago the Giants were "way out front." The Yankees became stronger and stronger until they were at the head of the class.

"It's the stadium and the Polo grounds," they said. "Another subway series."

Then the Cardinals and the Tigers, the champs, stepped out to dispute the issue with such effectiveness that today they are just one-half game each behind the leaders.

Even as a year ago it was Hal Schumacher who met defeat yesterday.

Schumacher left the mound in the third inning. The rejuvenated Bill Hallahan allowed 11 hits, but they were well scattered, as he hung up his sixth straight win. He did not issue a single pass.

The Yankees and Detroit were rained out. Mickey Cochrane announced Schoolboy Rowe would pitch today.

Sox Move Up
The Chicago White Sox moved within four games of the Yankees by defeating the Philadelphia Athletics 12-3 in the opening game of their series.

CARDS SEEK LOOP LEAD IN GAME TODAY
ST. LOUIS, Tuesday, July 23. (P)—The league leadership was the goal of the St. Louis Cardinals in today's doubleheader with the New York Yankees.

Trailing by half a game as a result of yesterday's 8 to 5 victory in the opener of a six-game series, the Red Birds need both ends of the twin bill to gain the top. A double conquest will put them a game and a half in the fore.

Sweeping both games on bargain days, however, is a Cardinal habit this year. They've done it nine times in the 11 twin bills they've played.

Paul Dean, younger of the two brothers who were nightmares to the Giants in the Cardinals' winning stretch drive last year, and Bill Walker, the team's leading pitcher on a basis of won and lost statistics, are Manager Frank Frisch's selections.

Bill Terry will probably counter with Leroy Parmelee and Al Smith.

Southpaw Jimmy Haynes, not content with being the most improved chucker in the league, blasted two home runs while pitching the M. E. South Seniors to victory over their "little brothers," the M. E. South Juniors, in a City Night Ball league game that ended 7-3 last night.

Those lowly Carpenters, who have been booted around ever since they entered the second half, looked like a ball club for the first time, but lost a hard-fought decision to the Commercial National bank's defending champs, 6-5.

Three runs behind in the seventh, the Carpenters tied the score at 5-5 on clean hits by Bartholomew, Collins and Elliott, but the first two men to the plate for the bankers in the last of the seventh won the game. Short-stop Forbes hit a scratch single, and scored on Vince McDonald's double and a poor throw-in from right field.

Lefty Haynes of the Methodist Seniors was touched for nine hits by the Juniors, but kept them well-spaced. Ray O'Campo of the Methodists was the victim of three home runs, two by Haynes and the other by his battery mate, Catcher Owen.

WRESTLING

By the Associated Press
PORTLAND, Me.—Jackie Nichols, 175, Richmond, defeated Black Panther, 176, Ethiopia, two falls out of three. Wilhelm Wagner, 178, Germany, defeated Chipewa Charlie, 174, Oklahoma, one fall.

MONTREAL—Joe Savoldi, 200, Three Oaks, Mich., and George Zarzynoff, 208, Russia, wrestled to a draw. Each gained one fall.

ALLISON, VAN RYN DEFEAT GERMANS

Victory Gives U. S. 2-1 Lead Over Rivals In Davis Trophy Series

WIMBLEDON, Eng., Tuesday, July 23. (P)—Wilmer Allison of Austin, Tex., and Johnny Van Ryn of Philadelphia defeated Baron Gottfried von Cramm and towering Kay Lund of Germany in five sets, 3-6, 6-3, 5-7, 6-7, 8-6, today in a Davis cup inter-zone tennis doubles match and gave the United States a 2-1 lead over Germany in the international series.

Yanks Have Edge
The victory gives the American internationalists a decided edge for the final session of the series tomorrow to determine England's opponent in the challenge round. It means Germany must capture both singles matches. Uncle Sam's forces need only one more victory to advance to the challenge round.

The final singles contests will pit red headed Donald Budge of Oakland, Calif., against the talented Von Cramm, while Allison will take on Young Heiner Henkel. In the opening singles Budge registered a four-set victory over Henkel and Von Cramm disposed of Allison in straight sets.

Von Cramm Solved
There were two vital factors in the Americans' triumph today. First, they finally succeeded in solving Von Cramm's whip-lash, high-bouncing service in the all-important fifth set and secondly they managed to coordinate in their fore court offensive effectively.

Wana Returns To Ring Here
Wild Bill Wana, Westminster welterweight who won numerous bouts here last season, returns to the Orange County Athletic club ring Thursday night in a four-round main event with Duke Watanabe of Hawaii.

Wana plans to follow his appearances here with competition in The Examiner's annual Golden Gloves tourney. He earned 11 successive decisions at the Highway 101 arena last year. Wana defeated Manuel Gomez, Pacific coast welterweight champ, in his last start.

Other bouts on this week's program:
Paul Garcia, Hynes, vs. Irish Shay, Ontario, in semi-windup, 150 pounds.
Isht Watanabe, Lomita, vs. Don Benzon, Anaheim, 125 pounds.
Pancho Ramirez, Wilmington, vs. Paul Saucedo, Anaheim, 135 pounds.
Young Hernandez, Wilmington, vs. Jess Sanchez, Westminster, 130 pounds.
Eddie Martinez, Wilmington, vs. Bill White, San Bernardino, 135 pounds.
Miller Fonckea, Wilmington, vs. Larry Ledford, San Bernardino, 140 pounds.
Rusty Gilmore, Hynes, vs. Jack Holt, Wilmington, 130 pounds.

Young Net Star Visits Here With Friends

En route to her home in Berkeley, Miss Anne Morgan, 14-year-old Californian hailed by experts as a future tennis champion, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Mixer, 1405 North Ross street, Santa Ana, yesterday.

Returning from competition in the La Jolla invitational, Miss Morgan stopped over with her sister, Helen and mother, Mrs. David Morgan, who were acquaintances of the Mixers when they lived in Berkeley.

CHICAGO, Tuesday, July 23.
(P) - Traffic has been unusually heavy this year along baseball's comeback trail, and in the mad rush of the Groves, Lyons, Halla-

Charlie Root of the Chicago Cubs has been temporarily lost in the shuffle.

But today the Cubs, with 14

triumphs in their last 17 starts, pointed to the 36-year-old Root as one of the main factors in the drive.

VOL. 1, NO. 71 Tuesday, July 22, 1935

REWARD OF THE DREAMER

THE Southland has lost one of its greatest builders. In Los Angeles today they are paying tribute to the memory of William Mulholland. Father of the Los Angeles aqueduct, he is called, but he was more than that. He was the builder of what is now one of the world's greatest cities—Los Angeles itself. For he gave Los Angeles its first permanent place in the sun when he gave it water.

Interesting again today, but always true, is the fact that the same men who said it could not be done; that the rugged Irishman's plan of going 250 miles into the mountains after a municipal water supply was a fantastic dream—these men are passing the bier of the dreamer with bowed heads, and they are saying: "He was a great man. We owe him much."

And so it will be in Orange county when some man with vision, some man politically unfettered, some man without selfish interests, some man with a devotion to his homeland that will surpass all other considerations, earnestly goes to work to insure a permanent, never-failing water supply for lands which are worthless without it.

Such a man will meet what appears to be insurmountable obstacles every time he moves; he will be laughed at; he will be the target for bitter thrusts from those whom he regarded as friends.

And when he dies they will say: "He was a great man; we owe him much."

IF NOT AAA, THEN WHAT?

(Christian Science Monitor)

EXPENDITURE of a great amount of breath over the proposed amendments to the Agricultural Adjustment Act leads only to an impression that this issue is merely a byplay in a longer drama, the climax of which is not yet reached. That climax will come when and if, as is widely expected, the United States Supreme Court declares the original AAA unconstitutional.

The bill of amendments pending in the Senate seeks, if possible, to stave off such a decision or its effects. In only one particular does the effort show enough chance of success to seem worth while. This is in the laying down of standards by which the processing taxes are to be determined. These standards are open to criticism in the fact that they would let a farm commodity price under some circumstances go more than 20 per cent above the so-called parity level without discontinuing the processing tax.

In other aspects the bill attempts the impossible or the undesirable.

The bill does place, or at least continue, "taxes on the very necessities of life—food, shelter, furniture and clothing." So have the protective tariff bills of every generation for the last hundred years. Cited opponents of the farm program cry aloud about paying subsidies to agriculture. Yet some of their industries have collected and still collect immensely bigger subsidies from rural quarters under the umbrella of import duties.

Hence the disparity of purchasing power which periodically disrupts American industry's internal markets. Hence the grinding pressure which makes farm relief a perennial subject of agitation, makes the farm belt a happy hunting ground for demagogues, and threatens to reduce American agriculture to a state of perpetual economic subjection. Lincoln said the Union could not endure half slave and half free. American standards can not endure half protected, half exposed.

The Agricultural Adjustment Administration, with its allotment plan and attempted controls of production and markets, has accomplished more than previous efforts to redress the balance. But its franker friends will concede that it has its disadvantages—and still more sadly—that it probably is on its way to something like the same fateful fate that overtook President Hoover's Federal Farm Board. Each grappled with something beyond its power.

The only fundamental remedy for the farm problem—as well as for the American foreign trade problem and some others—is the reduction of United States tariffs. It must be done judiciously, but it must be done. The United States can continue to experiment with farm nostrums. Presumably the next expedient will be some sort of a two-price system with bounties at home and attempted dumping abroad. But that will probably make more enemies than sales. Must we go on trying makeshift after makeshift and demanding with each failure the lopping off of political heads in sacrifice to our stubbornness?

When will the interests which preach that laissez faire is the only correct economic doctrine for the farmer consent to read a page from their own doctrine and learn that prohibitive tariffs are the first great interference with it? Let the next session of Congress make a general and downward revision of the American tariff and thousands who now plead for the farmer will join happily in repealing the processing taxes.

DIAPER-CHANGING

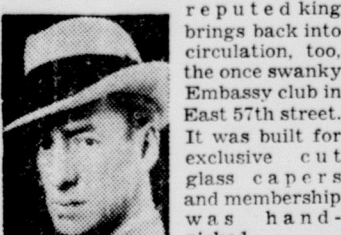

ALL Seattle was excited yesterday over a diaper-changing contest held in one of the city parks. Silly, you say. Well, maybe it was, but after all, this is the silly season, and Seattle's diaper-changing contest is at least interesting, which is more than can be said of some silly things we hear of in Washington, D. C., when our heavy-weight lawyers entertain us in the halls of congress with recipes for dill pickles and the like.

Seattle, as a matter of fact, is doing a worth-while thing this summer with its diapers and its put-the-cat-out derbies. It is making a sorry world smile, and it is showing us all we are happiest when we return to some of the simple amusements of long ago.

cream. It will be the aim to make it the de-luxiest town has seen, flaunting the dashiest in uniforms and the choicest in food and liquors.

Boag's backer is the self-effacing apple-cheeked Jimmy Thompson, who sponsored the Palace Royal and the Rendezvous where Boag featured his then wife, Gilda Gray, so successfully she was catapulted into The Follies. Boag also sponsored the Piccadilly restaurant, another success.

Jimmy Thompson is about the only man who ever made important money out of New York night clubs. He inherited a fortune but is a shrewd investor and wise to the Broadway chiseler. He withdrew from all activities a year before the crash. He believes now is time to begin again.

Variety points out that grand opera has all of a sudden gone pretty. And is catering in a big way to that initial quality called S. A. Most opera stars have been heavy chested women, amply hipped and not much to add up on the beauty side. The voice was the thing. But the new stars are slim, graceful and strikingly beautiful. Such as Gladys Swarthout, Grace Moore, Lily Pons, Lucrezia Bori and Helen Jepson. Any one would look O. K. in the Follies. Another personable lady the opera masters are watching is Jane Froman of the radio.

Free medical clinics around New York have begun a fight on one of the strangest of chiselings. They will try to weed out the wealthy people who graft gratuitous treatments. There are actual photographic records of patients stepping from chauffeured limousines a block away and walking to clinics. Trying to graft health is something for historians.

Surprising little eating places are often accidentally chivied up on less frequented by-ways. We were a party of four, impatient at the stiffness of one of the elegant cafes called smart, and ducked into a prim, chintzy place in the East 50's. It was raining and there were only two other diners. A patch of garden in the rear was soaked. We regretted our choice until a savory celery soup came. Tavor is served and I wondered how with such slim patronage it could furnish a living. Yet many such go on while the hot spots often cool.

Returning voyageurs from France report that beer is becoming, instead of light wine, the national drink. Cognac has almost vanished from the bars of the hard-boiled port of Havre. In Paris the cocktail hour is now chiefly a light refreshment of beer. Frank has a stein trade in the "smart room" of the Ritz. The sidewalk tables suggest those in the Berlin beer gardens. French brewery stocks are rising by leaps.

The famous Palace corner, so long the parade ground for vaudeville lay-offs and headline strutters, is Broadway pompous but there is a different type of peacock. The boasting, suspender thumbing actor gives way to the twinkling middle-aged fellows with an over-stressed worldliness. They lean against buildings and appraise you while appearing to read the last edition. Soon they engage you in talk. They are cappers for the floating dice games. And have such names as Arnie, Eddie, Steve and Jack and waft heavy aromas of the barber.

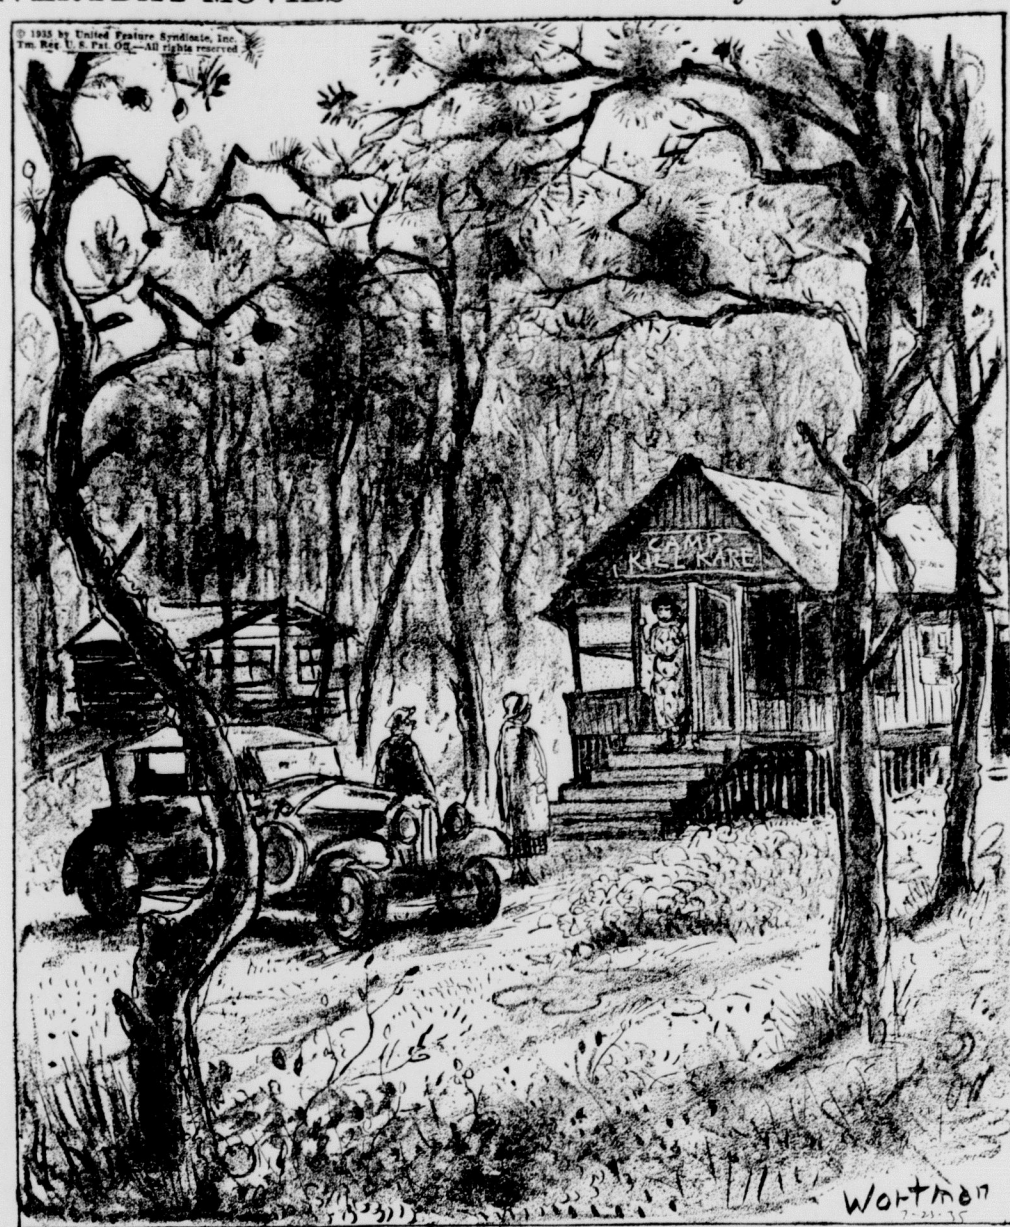

There should be a Guild of Freight Letter Droppers. I saw a ways park, never just stop and go on, in front of one, re-read the address, gaze at the stamp, glance about furtively and at last confide it slowly, reluctantly and a bit mistrustfully to the slit. Often after that I take a few steps and turn back for a final peep. O yes, I usually read the mail man's schedule on the side. I have a fear he is conspiring too.

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, July 23.—The most significant, and at the same time the most distressing indication of the probability of war, was Secretary of State Hull's statement before a secret session of the senate foreign relations committee the other day.

Mr. Hull was informing the senators regarding the proposed Neutrality Act, designed to keep the United States out of the next European conflict. The first half hour of his statement was on the question of a big navy. Mr. Hull made it clear that he did not oppose a big navy; on the other hand, considered it necessary.

But the climax of his statement came in discussing the dangers of war.

"There are two outlaws on the loose," he said, "Japan and Italy." At one point, ginger-tongued Gerald Nye leaned over, asked the secretary of state:

"Why is it, Mr. Secretary, that you have warned American citizens to leave Abyssinia, but have not warned American citizens also to leave Italy? Are we supporting Italy more than Abyssinia?"

Mr. Hull looked flustered, finally replied that he didn't think there would be any active warfare in Italy.

PROFITABLE NIGHT

THERE was one round-table session during the president's week-end visit to the Jefferson Island Democratic club that lasted until the wee hours of the morning. But not one word of politics or legislation was discussed. Pokes was the subject that held the rapt attention of distinguished guests and hosts.

Playing for stakes limited to $10 a man were the President, Vice President Jack Garner, Postmaster General Jim Farley, Senator Key Pittman, Senator Joe Robinson, National Emergency Council Director Frank Walker, Speaker Joe Byrns and Representative Lindsay Warren. They battled it out until nearly dawn.

When the game broke up, Garner and Pittman, noted poker hands, were out on the sidelines and the President and North Carolina's Warren were the big winners.

ANNIVERSARY GIFT

JUST one year ago today, the U. S. President Grant sailed out of Seattle with what the collector of customs, Sol Haas, claimed was an insufficient crew.

The commerce department's bureau of navigation and steamboat inspection fined the ship $500, but let her sail nevertheless.

Today—one year later—the fine still remains unpaid.

expedition. Of course, there will be some of it; for Jim is an ace hand-pumper and back-thumper. But his touring has a far more serious purpose.

Behind his sunny smile and breezy exterior, Big Jim is worried.

Reports have been coming to him of a growing tide of anti-administration resentment. In the congressional cloakrooms it is being whispered that Emil Hurja, Jim's left right-hand lieutenant, has just concluded a survey of public sentiment in the country with findings showing that for every hundred voters edging to the left, 150 are veering right.

Details of this reported study are lacking, but it is said to be giving both the President and Farley much food for thought.

So, to get a first hand picture of the political situation and do such fence-mending as he may find necessary, Big Jim will hit the road for a long "sawing around the circuit."

SAD BUT WISER

BRASWELL DRUE DEEN is a sad but wiser young man. The gangling Georgian has learned what any old-timer could have told him, that cheers and plaudits do not necessarily mean votes.

Deen is the house member who suddenly skyrocketed out of the obscurity of the back benches with a rip-snorting demand for the shelving of the President's tax program and the prompt adjournment of congress.

The speech and his picture made the front pages. A canner politician would have stopped right there, well content with the publicity.

But the inexperienced Georgian, inflamed with the sound of his own little-headed voice, cast aside caution and raised the banner of revolt. He offered a resolution for adjournment, thereby sealing his doom.

Unquestionably, a majority of the house democrats want to quit, and if left to their own devices would do so pronto. But with the President demanding action on his tax program, the boys don't dare kick over the traces.

So after hurrahing Deen to the echo when he talked adjournment, they hastily cuffed him into place when he took them seriously and offered an adjournment motion.

Deen is a school teacher, small town banker and country weekly editor, who had a 100 per cent New Deal record until his adjournment outbreak.

Now, Deen's friends say, he is very much worried. His district in Georgia is strongly pro-Roosevelt, and he fears his slip may bring embarrassing reverberations.

One Man's Opinion

By Duncan Ellsworth Clark

EDITOR'S NOTE—Here is an informative, analytical daily feature on current topics. The opinions expressed in this column are not necessarily the same as those held by The Journal.

A Great Poet—and Personal Pleasures

The classical world is honoring the two thousandth year of the birth of Quintus Horatius Flaccus, usually called Horace. Among the Latin poets he stands supreme. His aphorisms are more often quoted, perhaps, than those of all other ancient poets combined. His penetrating philosophy is pertinent now as always. He followed, in example and precept, that large school of philosophers who taught that the ethical goal and chief end in life is the enjoyment of personal pleasures and the gratification of desires. This pursuit of pleasures necessarily implies moderation and good sense, for pleasure is destroyed by surfeit and satiety. If one is to continue deriving pleasure from the table he must avoid the sin of gluttony. Likewise, with all of the sensual indulgences, Horace stands as the exponent of the golden mean in living.

His quotable remarks are packed with thought. Note the following: "Fierce eagles do not beget the timid dove." "Fit the punishment to the crime."

"The greatest genius does not succeed without hard work." "Kings call the tunes, but their subjects pay the piper."

"Let the man who has enough for his needs, desire nothing more." "Give and take is the right policy to follow."

"Even a fool sometimes speaks sense." "Hunger is the best sauce."

"Rule your passions or they will rule you."

In the afternoon, by barge, to Laguna, where Little Homer doth persuade me to go in swimming. But Lord! so soon as I do stick my toe into the water, I do change my mind, saying to Little Homer: "The water do be mighty colde, and I do be sure if my doctor were here, he would forbid me to swim." But Little Homer doth cry out in a shrill voice: "Fraidy-cat; Fraidy-cat." A double pox on the cattering young duff-pate!

Aw come on in, the water's fine!

Planning on sending an S O S to some archeologist to assist in the identification of those two old buzzards on either side of the new city hall entrance. One of them looks like old Ramesses and the other one of the Pharaohs, and both of 'em look like some councilmen I have known. My book of "Who's Who" is of such ancient vintage that names of councilmen are not recorded. Maybe after the false work is removed identification will not be so difficult. Thought of getting Herman Zabel to give me a fingerprint report, but on closer examination, dog-gone it, discover "they ain't got no fingers."

When you step on the gas you can throw your shoulders back and say that you are one who helped pay into the state treasury $565,027,000 in taxes. That's the sum collected in 1934. And if gasoline taxes keep on mounting the time will come when you won't have any shoulders.

Invention of a new safety pin which flies shut instead of open has aroused the enthusiasm of Will Rogers, who claims they are so safe they can be fed to the babies with a dish of oatmeal. Will should watch the evolution of this safety device carefully. An improvement is promised which enables the pin to pick up a napkin at a strategic point and hang it on the line.

Frank Jones comes in and overhears a remark made about pennies. So he challenges me to a game. What's the matter with the fellow—does he think I'm a capitalist?

When an ambitious Austin tries to run down Patrolman Bud Hearn that's news. It was rough going for Bud last Saturday. Standing out too far in the street a Cadillac disputed the right of way and Bud leaps to safety. Then a Plymouth asks for a clearance and the obliging patrolman retreats. En route home an Austin attacks the officer and scores a hit—but not with Bud.

Grandson wants a sandwich. One that's folded up. And when I insist on specifications and dimensions and other details the info is that the aforesaid sandwich was prepared some place, for sale here, and encased in cellophane. That's where the folded up part slipped in. Sometimes I am convinced I was born fifty years too early.

Looks like I'll have to make my own investigation. Friends reporting about the San Diego nudist colony do not agree. Their opinion runs from interest to disgust, from an anatomical lecture to the minute specifications of Venus of Milo. And then there is some talk about importations from Tia Juana, followed by an inertia which gives me the impression that the act lacks the Salome appeal.

Met Art Shipkey and he's talking about spark plugs, so thinking he means Billy DeBeck I cut into the conversation only to find out that Art means auto spark plugs, and next thing I know John Luxembourg's pulmotor squad is working over me working me over—don't know which.

By golly, I'm willing to admit that "the old man ain't what he used to be," but that time has not arrived when the ravages of longevity have interfered with the daily preambulation so that the assistance of a cane is required; so will the party who left the walking stick in my alley call and identify the property. Got an anxiety to find out how old he is.

After reading the newspapers I am convinced that California has no monopoly on earthquakes. In the India region near Quetta vibrations major and minor have continued for more than two weeks. Japan is seldom without a tremor, and if they cannot start one for their own country they start one in China. The old earth is never allowed to rest. In that respect it is similar to its inhabitants—always grumbling.

Evening. Dinner hour. Waitresses. Lights. Music. Conviviality. And then the occasional "sour note." You will find him in every cafe. He's the grouch who comes in with a chip on his shoulder and spoils the whole day. His order never suits him after it is what he asked for. He's as welcome as a pestilence, as crusty as an armadillo, a cacophonous crank, and the eclipse of a depression. His departure is only redeeming feature of the transaction. Moral: Don't be a crab. But if you insist, stay in your own environment.
